Director of Racquet Sports

Croquet, Pickleball and Tennis is what we do and who we are in the Racquet Sports Department at the Tennis & Games Center. This past weekend, we highlighted events in all three sports. In croquet, we had Paul Fecteau start as our Touring Croquet Pro. In Pickleball we had our 6th Annual Pickleball Pro-Am and Pro-Pro. In tennis, we had DUKE University Women's Ocean Reef Members with the sixth-ranked Duke Women's Tennis Team.

Tennis Team put on a show in exhibitions and clinics.

6th Annual Pickleball Pro-Am & Pro-Pro

The competition was hot at this annual Pickleball event. Thank you to those who participated and supported. On Friday, the event kicked off with a Cocktail Party where players of the event got to mix and mingle with the Pros. On Saturday, play started with Group 1 where the Member got to play with each and every Pro against other pairings. The players played for 15 minutes and when time was called they had to report their score. After 8 rounds and all scores reported, George Doran took home the gold medal and Kelly French took home silver. The group two session played the same format and Ralf Sellig claimed gold, while Matt Stevens took silver by just a point.

On Sunday, the Pros had their chance to showcase their talents while battling each other. They played one Ladies' Doubles match, one Men's Doubles, and two Mixed Doubles. It is crazy to say, but all of the Pro matches

Gotta Question?

Is there a golf cart speed limit and is it different than cars?

Yes, there is a golf cart speed limit, and no, it is not different than that of cars. The max speed limit for both cars and golf carts within the Ocean Reef community is 25mph. While many golf carts, including Ocean Reef's Cart Rental fleet, max out at a speed below the 25mph limit, there are certain carts that have the ability to cruise above 25mph. These carts in question must also abide by the set speed limit and not exceed 25mph in either the car or cart lane.

Carts that do cruise at 18mph or higher, considered "fast carts," are required to exclusively drive in the car lane and behave like a regular car on the road. "Slow carts," or any cart that travels at 17mph or lower, should drive in the dedicated golf cart lane. The only time these carts should venture into the car lane is when making a left-hand turn, in which case they should use their signals to merge into the car lane.

All carts should follow typical car rules of the road and should not assume right of way.

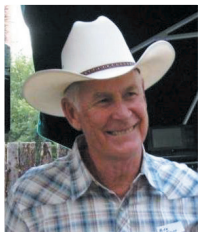

For more information on golf cart rules and regulations, visit www.orcareef.com, or call Public Safety at 305-367-2222.

MAKING HISTORY

How We Got Here

by Mike Smith

After Ocean Reef Club's initial opening in 1951, Morris Baker, always thinking way ahead, was planning for additional activities for guests other than fishing and boating. He acquired two plots of land, one from the Crane Plumbing Company (later merged with American Standard) and the other from the Horace Hills Irvine family (from St. Paul, Minnesota). Mr. Baker now had the land to build a golf course.

Baker hired Mark Mahannah, a south Florida groundskeeper who had experience with course construction on coral based land. He designed the first nine and then the second nine shortly after. The original first hole was our present number 14 on Dolphin and Baker's home was the clubhouse located near Baker Harbor which had recently been dredged for Mr. Baker's boats. The Ocean Reef Course opened in 1955. Mark Mahannah went on to become a much sought-after course architect, Lost Tree in North Palm Beach being one of his best known.

During the next 15 years, the Ocean Reef Club kept growing with more and more visitors each year. In 1969, the Club was sold to a real estate investor group headed by Harper Sibley from Rochester, N.Y. and Morris Burk, a Miami developer. The demand for good tee times was so high, the new owners realized they needed another golf course. Mr. Sibley immediately hired Bruce Devlin and Bob Von Hagge to design and build nine more holes near the airport, appropriately called the "Airport Nine" but that wasn't enough so another nine was constructed and the 18 hole course was called the Barracuda Course.

The original Mark Mahannah course, then called the Dolphin Course, was still the favorite course for Members and tee times were difficult to get plus play was very slow. Mr. Sibley contracted to build another course that would become the Harbor Course (now known as the Hammock Course), but construction languished because of lack of financing.

Meantime, a few Members started to talk about the possibility of a private golf course with no tee times. They formed a group and acquired forty acres outside our gate but soon discovered that enough land to build another course was not available, so they began discussions with Mr. Sibley. Eventually, and over time, they agreed on a complicated arrangement wherein the new group would finance the construction of the Harbor Course, cede over the forty acres they had purchased to the Club and trade for the Barracuda Course.

The deal was sealed with a handshake. Ocean Reef now had two very good golf courses and the Barracuda Course became the private Card Sound Club.

It started as a primitive fishing camp in 1948 ...
Was purchased by its Members in 1993 ...

The time has come to honor these two important milestones!

WHEELS UP

Celebrating All Charities' Preferred Partners

by Sarah A.
Cart

Much of the success of All Charities Weekend through the years has been thanks to the steady and loyal growth and support of its Preferred Partners. Through their direct financial contributions and auction item donations, the Partners ensure that the monies raised at the Silent and Live Auctions over All Charities Weekend (aka ACW; in 2023, Feb. 10-12) free up the Ocean Reef Community Foundation to give 100 percent of the donations made by Club Members to non-profits.

So, to paraphrase a general rule from public safety officials: If you see something, say something ... which in this case would be, "Thank you!"

Thanks to the generosity of All Charities' Preferred Partners and the Ocean Reef community, over the past 15 years more than $14 million has been passed through to our neighboring communities in the form of financial grants to assist thousands of our neighbors in Key Largo, Homestead and Florida City. Closer to home, those local entities that are vital to Ocean Reef's life and culture – the Medical Center, Cultural Center, Academy, Art League, ORCAT and Conservation Association – have also been able to thrive.

At the start: NetJets has been a steady supporter since All Charities' 2008 beginnings; two other champions, Northern Trust, and Marsh (now known as Marsh McLennan Agency Private Client Services), joined shortly thereafter. Mary Lee Presents, known today as the John & Mary Lee Fine Wine Society, arrived along with the "Preferred Partner" designation in 2012.

In 2014, both Baptist Health South Florida and Ocean Reef Real Estate (now Ocean Reef Club Sotheby's International Realty) came aboard, followed in 2016 by Wheels Up and Lexus of Kendall/Lexus of West Kendall, which that year donated the first automobile to be raffled.

From farther afield, in 2017 Chicago's Lester Lampert Jewellers joined the ranks, adding "Baubles, Bubbles & Jewells" to the calendar.

Sustaining the Preferred Partners tradition and moving it forward, in 2019 and 2020 came the addition of Haute Explore, providing personalized travel experiences around the globe, Somerset Charters with their beautifully restored 1971 Trumpy Cruiser, and Barton & Gray Mariners Club with their fleet of Hinckleys.

The additions in 2021 of Baer's Furniture, providers of high-end furnishings and interior design across Florida, and Seabourn, the pioneer of ultra-luxury cruising, round out the team.

Thanks to these Preferred Partners, planning for ACW moves forward with the freedom to craft a memorable and successful fund- and fun-raising weekend, with auction offerings domestic and international, experiences to share with friends or focused on family, and adventures, sports, jewelry, culture and more.

When ACW weekend comes: The fun begins Friday evening, Feb. 10, with the Wine and Bourbon Tasting & Silent Auction Showcase. It continues Saturday daytime with Burgers, Beers & Bidding compliments of the Ocean Reef Chamber of Commerce and a NetJets display before Saturday night's Live Auction, dinner and dancing.

Questions? Visit oceanreefcommunityfoundation.org, or contact All Charities at 305-367-5996 or AllCharities@OceanReef.com.

All Charities' Preferred Partners are the girders upon which ACW stands. Please thank them, support them, celebrate them – they make all of us look good.

Rachel Wilson

Look around today's world, and you'll see that daily life is more dependent on technology than ever before. The benefits of this trend range from near-instant access to information on the Internet to the modern conveniences provided by smart home automation technology and concepts like the Internet of Things.

With so much good coming from technology, it can be hard to believe that potential threats lurk behind every device and platform. Yet, despite society's rosy perception of modern advances, cyber security threats presented by modern tech are a real danger.

According to Forbes, 2023 will present us with a pack of diverse and terrifying cyber security challenges, everything from supply chain disruption to increased smart device risks to a continued cyber security talent drought.

According to Cybercrime Magazine, cybercrime will cost the world $10.5 trillion annually by 2025! Furthermore, global cybercrime costs are predicted to rise by almost 15 percent yearly over the next four years.

A combination of forces, such as the pandemic, cryptocurrency, and the rise in remote work, are all coming together to create a target-rich environment for cyber criminals.

Please join us at the Cultural Center on Thursday, January 19 to hear Rachel Wilson speak on the issues. Rachel is currently a managing director, and head of cybersecurity, for Morgan Stanley and the former NSA remote operations chief.

In her riveting presentation, Rachel will describe for ORC Members the many current cybersecurity threats facing companies and institutions including nation-states like North Korea and Iran, cyber-organized crime syndicates, and individual hackers looking to make money or to create mayhem. Given the reality of increased widespread availability of advanced hacking tools, Rachel will show how cyber actors can find targets of opportunity amongst companies, institutions and individuals, with an aim of getting access to their data, which they can then monetize.

Drawing from her experience at the NSA, and in the financial sector, Rachel will discuss what everyone can do to be prepared for, and respond to, the cyber risks facing our digital society today.

Scoop Doggy

By Winston Baxter

I overheard Harold Brewer suggest that my Dad do a story on the morning coffee guys. We love story suggestions, it makes us feel like we are "on assignment" just like real investigative reporters. And the coffee guys are truly worthy of our applause -- they are there at the crack of dawn every day, rain or shine (or 40-degree weather), playing happy Salsa music to cheer us up and serve up hot Java with a smile. Dad calls Mr. Brewer "HB" to confuse me; just like he thinks spelling "W-A-L-K" makes Mom's daily suggestion a secret. Ha! I decided to beat him to the story. After all, it was I who discovered Donald and taught him how to hand out the dog biscuits.

So, just the facts I was able to sniff out. Donald Lewis and Sid Hunter are continuing the tradition of complimentary morning coffee at the Town Hall portico (also available at the Inn's lobby). It is a popular gathering spot for Members and their canines. They start at 6 a.m. every day. Donald has worked at Ocean Reef for 25 years and he still loves it. Sid started 27 years ago as a server in the Ocean Room. He says, "This is so different than what we find in the outside world. It would probably be hard for the general public to understand. Members here have a charitable attitude toward the staff, and kindness." Donald nods and says, "You make us feel like family."

Donald always lights up when he sees me. We don't let Donald or Sid delay any coffee customers, but we wait in the cart for a dog biscuit presentation (I don't get a whole biscuit. Donald breaks one end off and makes me reach for it. Dad says I am getting too fat for a whole Milk Bone...look who's talking Mr. Big Eater). I give Donald a few licks, which I bet makes his day. It's a mutual admiration society. Then, off to continue our rounds. We have our regular security route, constantly on the alert for damsels in distress. Our checklist is simple: Beautiful boats... check. Beautiful homes... check. Beautiful people...check. Today we saw Ed Kavanaugh (I call him Uncle Ed) and Spot, my doggy brother. Moments later we run into Molly Fazio, a little white dog even smaller than me. We yip and dance around each other until our leashes are tangled in a braid that takes minutes to untangle. Our tour always brings small unexpected pleasures that make it worthwhile getting up in the morning. My tail wags as we approach the Bell Stand because the "morning crew" always sneaks me another dog biscuit. Dad pretends not to notice.

During the holidays there were dozens of little people, just my size. They seem so happy to pat me, I feel just like Walt Winston Baxter with Donald Lewis.

Bell Stand Morning Crew: Jerome Simpson, Mark McCormack, and Julio Prado

Disney when he said his job was to sprinkle pixie dust wherever he went. And we always pause for pretty ladies, but that seems to be Dad's doing. I never get tired of starting the day this way; a golf cart ride, a glittering sunrise, friendly people, Donald & Sid and the morning crew at the Bell Stand. Just the first moments of charm we experience throughout an Ocean

Reef day. I am confident Dad won't mind that I scooped him on this story. I hope Mr. Brewer likes my report.

A quick Bark Out about upcoming pet events: TOMORROW, January 14th is the annual Blessing of the Animals, 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. at the Chapel. And the first Yappy Hour is at Grayvik on Jan. 25 from 3-5p.m. I will see you there.

What IS That Building?

by Jody Steele

If you are taking your golf cart in for service, sitting on the Airport runway, or even visiting Waste Management, you might have noticed a large, light green building with some delivery trucks in the driveway. It is sometimes referred to as "Reef Central," but is really the Ocean Reef Commissary that consists of three warehouses and much more. The Bake Shop, all those yummy desserts, and the Banquet Kitchens all reside in this nondescript building, too—but, that is another story! You would not believe that this building, tucked away behind the Airport for 24 years, is such an important part of Ocean Reef Club and thus all of our lives.

So what is inside those walls?

Dan Taylor, Director of Purchasing, met me outside of Reef Central and then we cautiously went in to see one of the warehouse areas that consists of enormous shelves of goods, five coolers (huge refrigerators), two freezers, and especially designed storage spaces for wine, produce, china, cooking supplies, and everything our restaurants need on a daily basis. It is impressive to see the large quantity of supplies stacked almost to the ceiling and that is just the first floor! Then directly upstairs on the second floor are areas for retail and paper goods. This means all you see and purchase at the Golf Shop, The Burgee Shop, the Gift Shop, the Tennis Pro Shop and Port O' Call Wine and Spirits come to the Commissary first for processing.

Manager, and Will Davis, Purchasing Manager, coordinate this complicated process and competent team.

Where does this all come from?

The volume of deliveries is staggering. Just in the month of December, 1800 dozens of eggs, 12,000 avocados, 3600 pounds of Mahi, and 4600 pounds of chicken tenders were delivered to the Commissary. There are about 40 vendors that arrive at the Commissary weekly and some come daily as produce, seafood, and meat must be fresh and high quality for our chefs. The trucks have their scheduled arrival time and many have been coming to The Reef for years. It is quite a well-organized, but hectic place, especially in the morning as cases of goods arrive, are inspected, logged in, counted, and divided for delivery across The Reef. This centralized delivery limits traffic of these large trucks through The Reef as they enter the Gate, drive down Anchor Drive, and then after Four Corners make a left turn as they drive directly to the Commissary.

It is an amazing group of people that efficiently manage the intake of ALL that Ocean Reef Club needs on a daily basis year around. So next time you sit down to a delicious meal at one of our fine dining venues or buy a gift at one of our Ocean Reef Club stores, remember that everything you see first arrived at the Commissary on the other side of the runway. And a huge thank you to the Commissary team!

How does this all work—so seamlessly?

The Commissary is open seven days a week year-round. Orders from all venues are emailed nightly and then printed out at 6 a.m. for the famous "clipboards" that hang on the warehouse wall. Every morning this talented team of 13 gets to work filling those orders for delivery around The Reef. Smaller box trucks, vans, and golf carts take the filled orders to the shops and the restaurants. Lazaro Martinez, Commissary

by Rev. Dr.
Bob Henley

Some memories, like fine wine and good whisky, require aging before they can be tasted and appreciated. One such memory comes from 1963, just weeks before the trauma of that November in Dallas.

My hometown had little to distinguish it from other small towns in east Texas, save one thing. It was the sign strung across main street. Inscribed in colorless white block print were the words, "Welcome to Greenville – Home of the Blackest Land and the Whitest People."

The words of that sign are a reminder that racism is moral cancer. This malignancy of the soul forms and spreads unnoticed until it slowly destroys the capacity to find wonder and praise for God's creating and delighting in the variegated colors of our shared humanity.

Moments of human experience though, can be like Paul Simon's "stabbing flash of a neon light, splitting the night." A startling event shocks your awareness. You realize something is terribly wrong.

That stabbing flash was a startling event that took place in the fall of my senior year, in 1963. Our schools became racially integrated.

There were no national guard troops forming a protective corridor at the entrance to our school. And there was no George Wallace like official making national news with their protest. But there was pain.

The pain was manifested in the reaction by some in the community to the uncoerced decision to integrate our schools. All the board members were white. One of them was my dad.

Known by most as Butch,

he was a quiet man who loved coaching Little League and fishing. To say he was not loquacious is an understatement. It was routinely said of my dad that "he doesn't say much, but when he does, you need to listen."

Like most veterans of that era, he was happy just to be alive, building a family and life as a small-town merchant. His only scars from the war were unseen, hidden on the inside.

How the board's momentous decision came about remains a mystery to me. Dad never spoke about it, that I recall. All I remember were the ugly phone calls and the threats.

My dad was not a physically imposing figure. But he was not one to be pushed around. Undeterred, he and the members of the school board freely chose to confront the powerful current of racism in our schools, in our community, and in our hearts.

The outcome of their decision had a face. He was a seventeen-year-old African American student whose name ironically was, Kenny White. His life merged with ours that fall, both in the halls and on the track and the diamond.

What brought this memory to mind? It was a recent story in our hometown newspaper.

For some unknown reason, like the national merit scholars in Virginia, Kenny never received his varsity letter jacket like the rest of us that year. His athleticism was as outstanding as his person.

So early this fall, some 58 years later, at a very public ceremony, Kenny was awarded his letter jacket from GHS.

Kenny served as a Marine in Vietnam. He and his family regularly show up on Facebook. Now retired, like many of us, his receding hairline is gray, and he's added too many pounds to fit into his old track shorts. He could make the cinders fly in the four-forty back in the day.

What remains unchanged is the quality of his character. In his remarks at the award ceremony, he was far more gracious than others might have been. There was neither suspicion nor resentment in his words. He spoke with great kindness about the reception he received those many years ago.

It was August of that same year that Martin Luther King, Jr. gave his famous "I Have a Dream" speech from the steps of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, DC. There was no causal relationship between the speech and the board's decision, made months earlier.

Dr. King's dream has been tarnished by recent events. These events remind us that the cancer of racism knows no color limits. It is not in remission, and the pain is still there.

But my memory of what took place those many years ago in my small town reminds me that hope can still be found, and that it still requires courage.

So, what is the curative treatment? It's what Jesus quoted from Torah when asked which of the ten commandments was best. He dodged the questioner's trap and summed them all up, saying, "Love God with all your heart, soul, mind, and strength. And love your neighbor as you love yourself."

It still amazes me how God's desire and Dr. King's dream were lived out all those years ago, in small ways, in my small town. Thanks, dad, for your courage. And thank you Kenny for having the courage to walk through that door.

Dr. Vasquez-Castellanos specializes in the surgical treatment of complex spinal conditions including tumors, degenerative spine diseases, spinal deformities, scoliosis, kyphoscoliosis and neurotrauma. He has unique expertise in minimally invasive techniques that result in less pain and complications for a quicker recovery time.

This informative lecture explains the various types of spine scoliosis, symptoms, how it's diagnosed and treatment options.

Many thanks to Baptist Health South Florida for sponsoring this lecture and following the lecture, please join us for a cocktail reception. Mark your calendars for Monday, February 13, 2023, when Dr. Dylan Wint of Cleveland Clinic presents "Brain, Aging, Dementia and You."

A Wedding to Remember

By Jane Silverman Berman

It was all set. A wedding at The Point with cocktails; close family and friends were booking their flights and my father, Ocean Reef Member Marvin Blumenfeld, was ready to walk me down the aisle. Instead, with Covid cases surging, we erred on the side of caution and cancelled our big day.

After 12 years together (six of them engaged), we decided to have a classic pandemic moment and masked up for the Marriage License Bureau at Miami's City Hall. On January 13, 2022, I used my mother's wedding band and Mike his father's ring as we waited with all the other love birds for our moment. The official behind the plexiglass was a lovely woman who teared-up as we said our vows. It was actually very touching and loving and we celebrated "nous deux" at a beautiful Miami restaurant. And here we are – Dr. and Mrs. Michael A. Berman. It was not the wedding we had hoped for, but better safe than sorry. One year down and the rest of our lives to go. Happy Anniversary to us!

Each year Mike and I pack up our "must-have" items (which for me are shoes and more shoes and for Mike it's a dozen pair of identical Yale shorts) into our massive motorhome and hit the road one state at a time to visit with friends and family. It became our travel mode of choice during Covid as we drove with two Portuguese Water Dogs and a teenager over 9000 miles. Since then, we have become road warriors and explored 36 states (with more to come). The one challenge we faced at every stop was finding a secure and safe place for our dogs to play. Farmer's Market Favorites

by Susan Bohan

If you have ever gotten a Panini from Gemita's Kitchen on Thursday at the Farmer's Market, you have by now made it a weekly habit. Made with ciabatta bread, tomatoes, prosciutto, arugula, salt and pepper, and either fresh burrata or handmade mozzarella, it is so good she even has a disclaimer it could be addictive!

There are so many other goodies she makes that it is difficult to discuss just a few. But her newest lactose-free yogurt is fabulous. Processed locally, it includes probiotics, fresh fruit and whole milk with a creamy texture between Greek yogurt and custard. It comes in 5 flavors: lime pie, espresso, vanilla, berry medley and passion fruit. Delicious AND healthy.

And of course, she makes some great enhancements to any meal. The preserved onions are great over pork or chicken or even in scrambled eggs and both the basil and arugula pesto make a gourmet meal out of simple pasta.

Stop by and enjoy the many selections Gemita's Kitchen offers and you will make it a weekly habit as so many of our Members do.

CLUB SHOPPING

Joan the Shopper

Island Garden... This new store, located on Barracuda Lane (the road next to the Airport), is a welcome treat for Ocean Reef shoppers.... The attractive young owners Rob and Carly Desmond (pictured) are Equity Members who met at Ocean Reef, where both their families were Members. They were married here and are now year-round residents with interesting professional ventures – Carly in retail, Rob in real estate. They are already looking forward to the day when 6-month-old Charlotte can enroll at The Academy at Ocean Reef.... Though Carly, a biology major in college, has had no previous retail experience, she has managed to fill the store with stylish and often unusual ladies' apparel, accessories, and gift items.... To make sure everything she ordered was "Ocean Reef appropriate," Carly queried dozens of Members on what they would like to see in her store. She says that "friends of my mother and mother-in-law were especially helpful." Carly's research paid off and on a recent visit to Island Garden,

I found very appealing dresses (many in a flowing fabric with a colorful floral print - $370). There are also wonderful cashmere items, including a sweater that covers arms and shoulders and can be flung over a dress or blouse ($298). And there are a variety of swimsuits (all "OR Dress Code sanctioned"). My favorite is a one-piece royal blue suit with a tummy-flattering belt ($215) Don't miss the classy white cotton pullovers with large print-outs. Most popular is the one that says CARD SOUND. Mine says COCKTAIL O'CLOCK.

DUKE

The Tennis & Games Center hosted the sixth-ranked Duke University Women's Tennis Team last week to kick off their spring season. Their nine players, three coaches and two support staff members traveled to The Reef to train in the sunshine and humidity in preparation for their opening home match versus Furman this Friday. Members of all ages flocked to the Tennis & Games Center to watch the players battle it out amongst each other as they perfected their singles and doubles play for their upcoming nonconference match. It was quite exciting to watch the Duke women hit, to say the least, but Members were even more excited to get in on the action! On Friday, January 6th, eleven Members took part in a round-robin event that paired them with nine of the Duke players and two of their assistant coaches. On Sunday, January 7th, 11 Members joined the Tennis & Games Staff for a Gameio clinic where they played with and against the Duke players for a heart-rate elevating hour and half. Many of those that had the chance to hit with the reigning ACC team of the year came out to watch the signature event of the weekend, the Duke Evening Exhibition! On Saturday, January 8th, six of the top-ranked players in the country put on a show for all those in attendance. A set of doubles and a set of singles was played and man, does it make sense as to why they went to the Final Four last year! Of course, the Exhibition would not have been complete without our three ball kids: Payton Bridge, Jack Villamizar and Sydney Rappaport! Overall, the events were hugely successful for all those involved. We wish the team the best of luck this season and look forward to continuing our relationship with the Duke University Women's Tennis Program.

32nd Annual Ocean Reef Tennis Pro-Am

Support your favorite Pro in this annual event. The Pro-Am was started as a way to honor the Tennis Professionals on The Reef, while providing the top playing Members an opportunity to showcase their tennis talents as well. Over the years this has served as the Tennis Staff's "Bag Room Open" – giving Members a chance to support their favorite Pro! Winners are honored by having their names added to the beautiful sculptured tennis trophy. The event kicks off this Sunday at 10:30am with the auctioning of the Teams. Play to follow. Look forward to seeing you all there!

Pickleball Pro-Am Group Two participants.

Jay Devilliers, Pickleball Professional, and Liz Angelone.

Player of the Week

John Reed

What keeps you playing tennis?
I enjoy tennis at ORC because of the great programs such as Gameio, 105 and the variety of tournaments. Also, because of the staff, the great exercise and it's very social, we've made many great friends. The welcoming pros make for a great and returning experience.

When did you start playing tennis and why?
I was raised the last of 5 kids in Nashville, TN, and I learned to play at BMCC during summer clinics with Ted LeMaire and Thay Butchee. Everything they taught still holds true, like moving your feet to get into a good position.
I played tennis in High School of BGA. My talent and skills placed me playing at number 9, I think that is where my career peaked at age 16!

What is your best tennis memory?
My most fond memory was when I was playing Round Robins with my family and my dad was learning to play left handed because of his injury to his right arm.

What is your favorite activity at ORC besides tennis?
Golfing and boating.

Who is your favorite tennis player?
My dad.

It has been gorgeous Florida Keys weather at Ocean Reef Club this week. Sunny, 75 degrees, the brilliant blue sky on the lush deep green lawn... it's a great place to be. Come out to the great Croquet Lawn and see it, feel it, do it.

The Ocean Reef Croquet Club is a fun, social golf croquet organization with the purpose of its members gathering to play and enjoy the recreational sporting activity. Most participants are intermediate and beginner players and there are a few fairly talented advanced players. The mission of the organization is to play, learn to play better, be social and have fun.

Three big events are taking place this week on Thursday, Jan. 12 (yesterday), Friday, Jan. 13 (today at 1pm) and Saturday, Jan. 14 (tomorrow).

Crocodile Cup

The next 5 Thursdays

The Croc Cup is a once-a-week league play day. Teams are drawn on-site before every game. Thus, a player will have several different partners each day. Ron Sekura, who runs this event, would like a list of further potential players before the second round on Thursday, Jan. 19 so he can set up his computer base. Next Up For the Bonefish Bonnies: Cast & Blast

by Sarah A. Cart

If you're a Bonnie who has always wanted to learn the secrets of fly-casting or how to safely handle and fire a shotgun, here's a terrific opportunity.

Twenty-five pre-registered Bonnies will gather for a Cast & Blast at the Card Sound Sporting Clays course (6.7 miles past Alabama Jack's, on the right) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday, Jan. 27. The $100/person cost will cover range and gun rental as well as ammunition, instruction, lunch and beverages. Culture of Care

"From the Gold Tees" by Michael Leone, Director of Golf

The golf season is well underway and we are excited to be hosting some major golf events within the next few weeks. Ocean Reef Club hosts almost 50,000 rounds a year and we still have some of the most immaculate conditions you can find across the country. We are grateful for Director of Agronomy Eric Bennett and his team's efforts. It is the responsibility of all players to help maintain these conditions by doing their part with filling divots, fixing ball marks, raking bunkers, and more.

Filling Divots

An action such as filling your own divots and one other that you see will go a long way in keeping our courses in pristine condition. Filling the divot allows the grass to grow in at a much faster pace, keeping the turf smooth for the best playing conditions.

Proper Divot Filling Practice

When filling a divot, pour the sand mix in the divot until just below the level of the surface. Then, smooth down and press with your foot. It is worth the extra time to do this because not enough mix will create an uneven surface and too much sand may damage mowing equipment. Who knows, the divot you repaired could give you a better lie the next time around!

We encourage everyone to fill their divot and even one more.

Golf Cart Etiquette

- Only two carts per group are allowed on the golf course.
- Please abide by all cart signs put in place by the Golf Course

Maintenance Team.

- Please enter and exit fairways at 90 degrees. Driving down fairways and rough is very strenuous for the grass.
- Please keep all four wheels on the cart path to prevent unnecessary wear.

Other Course Etiquette to Keep in Mind

- Please enter and leave bunkers at the nearest level point to the ball. Please smooth over with the rake upon leaving and leave the rake in the bunker with the handle just outside the bunker.
- Please repair your ball mark on the green and one other. The putting surfaces here at Ocean Reef are second to none. It is very important to fix ball marks for both the playability and health of the putting surfaces.
- Par three divots will be taken care of by our maintenance team. We ask that all broken tees are placed in the boxes provided on the teeing area.

MGA vs. CSGC Interclub Results

I want to start by thanking everyone who participated in this year's Interclub with Card Sound Golf Club. As a professional staff, this is one of the most enjoyable events of the year. It's incredible to be able to get together 80 Members and work with Card Sound's staff to compete in this friendly rivalry dating back to 1978. It is a tradition that we look forward to continuing in years to come. Before we get to the results, a special shout-out goes to Eric Bennett, Ryan Oliver, and their teams for the exceptional course conditions everyone enjoyed this week!

With that being said, the 2023 Ocean Reef Club vs. Card Sound Golf Club Interclub is now in the books! The score at the start our second-round matches was Team Ocean Reef - 32 ½ and Card Sound with 30 ½. Although Team Ocean Reef started the day with a slight lead, it was not enough to overtake Team Card Sound on their home turf. Both sides battled throughout the day and it was a tight race all the way to the finish. Ultimately, Team Card Sound was able to grab 35 of the available 63 points in the second-round matches. After the final tally was made, Team Card Sound surpassed the amount needed to reclaim the trophy with a two-day total of 65 ½ points.

The 2023 ORC vs. CSGC Interclub champions are Team Card Sound Golf Club!

January Monthly Pro-Am Results

This month, we had another fantastic Pro-Am with a lot of great scores. Thank you to all of our participants for coming out. As a staff, we love events where we get to play in a competition with the Membership.

With a dramatic finish and forcing a match of cards, the team of Tom Gibson, Andy Timmerman, Shannon Bass and Pamela Bass won with a lower back 9 score, and a team total of 92! The team of Brett Gerbec, Joe Joyner, Cliff Milam, and Parker Milam were our runner-ups, also with a score of 92. In third place, with another great score of 96, was the team of Mike Leone, Barbara Pearson, Marylou Krause, and Cynthia Egan.

The competition of the pros is always exciting. With an amazing score of 66, Brett Gerbec took home the Low Professional for the event.

9 Hole LGA Results

We had over 50 ladies play in the 9 Hole LGA Flag Tournament last week. Our Flag Tournament is a challenging game in which each player added Par on the Front Nine Hammock (35) to their course handicap. When each player's score reached that stroke total, they placed their flag from the spot of that stroke. The goal of the game was to return the flag to the Professional after 9 holes, signifying that you beat your handicap. And we had several ladies accomplish this feat! See page 33 for results.

The Importance of Putter Fitting

"Swing Tip"
by Derek
Swoboda,
Director of Instruction

Putter fitting is often overlooked though it is the place we use the largest percentage of strokes. This week, we review 5 major factors to take into account when it comes to your putter.

Face Balanced vs. Toe Weighted

There are as many types of putters today as there are putting strokes. Putter heads are made with various versions of toe weight or face balance. This allows the player to best feel the putting stroke they are wishing to accomplish rather than fighting what the putter wants it to do. A good way to determine what type of putter you should use is to place two golf balls side by side while the putter head is perfectly square directly behind it. When you swing the putter back and through, one of the golf balls will travel farther than the other. If the golf ball on the toe of your putter travels farther, you should use more face balanced putters to keep the toe from closing too much. Conversely, if you see the inside golf ball travel farther, you will need more toe weight in the putter to allow the toe to move faster through the ball. See photo on the top right.

Length

When choosing the proper length of putter for yourself, you should be able to stand comfortably and feel like your eyes are directly over the golf ball. While doing this, allow your arms to hang freely below your shoulders and bring the insides of your upper arms in so they begin to touch your sides. This is the position to judge your length of putter by.

Too Short vs. Too Long

When you have a putter which is too short for you, the arms can extend away from your body easily and create separation. Since the putting stroke is more of a shoulder motion and less hands, we want to feel as "together" as we possibly can. This involves the insides of your upper arms being by your sides and allowing your shoulders to perform the putting motion.

When we have a putter which is too long, we normally see the student standing too tall at address. You can take length away from the putter by sliding your hands down the grip. The longer the putter is, the easier it is to allow the insides of your upper arms to be at your sides.

Lines

Lines play a giant part in how every individual is able to see alignment. Personally, I have found that my ability to line up properly is reliant on the number of lines on the top of the putter.

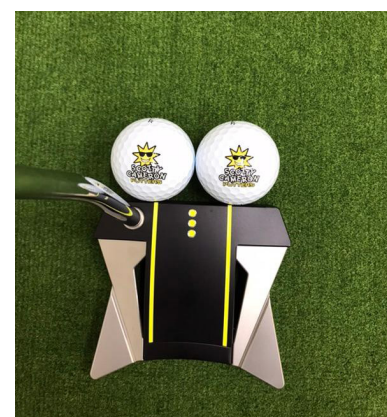

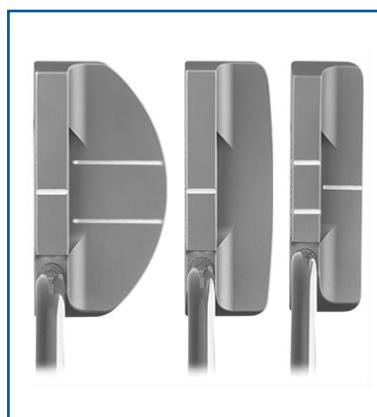

When using one line, my alignment on a straight putt is 2 feet to the right of the target on average. When using two or more lines on the putter, I am able to consistently line up within a half degree of the target. See photo on the top left.

The most accurate way to determine this is to test it out via SAM Putt Lab and a laser exam where we take putters with different shapes, lines and colors to determine which is the most consistent for you.

Weight

Weight and speed go hand in hand when controlling our distance in putting. I often find that people use putters that are too heavy. Think about putting with a sledge hammer, the amount of force you need to use in moving the hammer would decrease your ability to control how fast the hammer moves.

The lighter the putter becomes, the more easily you are able to control the speed in which the putter makes contact with the golf ball, as well as the distance and direction.

Putters are made with various versions of toe weight or face balance.

Loft

While we're familiar with loft on drivers, wedges and woods, loft also makes a difference on the putter. Depending on what you naturally do with the putter, you either need to add or decrease the loft it has. For example, if you naturally add loft to the putter, we will need to take loft away so the ball does not skid or bounce when hit.

Call the Golf Shop at 305-367-5912 to schedule your putter fitting.

Push Up Challenge

Wednesday, Jan. 18, 9 a.m. -12 p.m.

The Club Fitness Championship consists of four scoring challenges: push-ups, pull-ups, wall sit and plank. Members that score the most points across all four challenges will receive the distinction of Club Fitness Champion for the 2022-23 season. Our current champions are Robert Schwartz and Kathleen Metzman. Our overall push-up record is held by Joannie Rich with 111 push-ups. We train to be the best possible version of ourselves and physical tests are ways to measure our fitness progress. We encourage every Member to take the challenge and test themselves every season. Here are the standards to beat the challenge:

- Men: 30 Push Ups
 - Competition Handicap: 3 push-ups per decade after 40
 - Ladies: 10 Push Ups
 - Competition Handicap: 2 push-ups per decade after 40
- Challenge modifications (not counted towards championships points): knee push-up counts as 1/2 a repetition.

Technique and rules:

- We will look for full repetitions, which require the arms to fully extend. A yoga block will be placed at chest level to indicate how low the participant must go on each repetition.
- Participants can rest on a perfect plank position.

To participate in the challenge, request an official counter at the front desk of the Member Fitness Center. Members training with a trainer can also request the trainer to be an official counter.

Chair Yoga – with Hannah Whistler Wednesday, January 18 at 11 a.m.

This is a therapeutic yoga class that improves your range of motion, releases stress, and leaves your body feeling relaxed and rejuvenated. Traditional yoga poses, including stretches, balance exercises, and strengthening exercises, are done using the chair. Chair yoga is an ideal exercise for those suffering from conditions, such as chronic pain, carpal tunnel syndrome, osteoporosis, and multiple sclerosis. It may also benefit people over a certain age who have trouble moving through the up-and-down motions of traditional yoga by allowing them to stay stabilized.

New Fitness Classes:

We now offer over 80 group classes per week including Pilates, Barre, Tai Chi, Cardio Boxing, Aqua, Silver Fit and recovery focus classes in the afternoon. See what is new this month:

Paddleboard Yoga with Hannah Whistler

Yoga is a great physical practice for your mind and body, and so is stand-up paddle boarding. SUP yoga is a combination of the two. Some of the benefits of this exciting new practice that has been gaining popularity in recent years include: reducing stress, improving focus, balance, flexibility, and breath control, engaging new muscles, and being on the water. Being on the water and in nature can add another dimension of soulfulness and spirituality to your practice that you don't get from the gym.

It is something completely unique that requires a lot of balance and focus. It will challenge you in new ways while helping you continue to improve your overall fitness and yoga practice! If you're looking for something that will give you more of a challenge than traditional yoga without having to try more advanced moves and get an exceptional workout in, give SUP yoga a try. Join us every Monday at 9 a.m. To ensure a spot please make sure to sign up in advance.

Morning Tai Chi & Qigong Classes with Beth Bielat

Tai Chi is an ancient Martial Art that helps with balance, breathing, mobility, flexibility, and even pain management. Qigong uses simple exercises to help balance your life energy, promotes peace, clarity, and mindfulness, while incorporating powerful breathing techniques for rejuvenation and total health.

Join Beth Bielat Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings at 7:30 a.m. for thirty minutes of Tai Chi and Qigong.

Slow Flow Yoga with Kat Wheatley

Join Kat every Monday at 3 p.m. for a slow-flow yoga class that is perfect after your tennis, golf and morning activities.

Reiki - A Healing Energy Session with Kat Wheatley

Safe Boating Tip: Discounts on Manicures & Lines

by Robert
Broton, Flotilla
Commander,
U.S. Coast
Guard Auxiliary-
Ocean Reef

As Captain, you likely need help leaving and more importantly, docking your vessel. It is your total responsibility to instruct your crew on handling dock lines. Yes, these are lines not ropes! Any rope that has specific function is always called a line. Fenders are not "bumpers." Save bumpers for the amusement park bumper cars.

When preparing to leave the dock, assign firmly and unambiguously, by name, who shall help on the aft and forward lines. Use your best judgment who has the physical capability and skill level. The holiday boater may be a bad choice because they feel they know what to do in advance - a recipe for an accident. Once complete, instruct your crew to never anticipate a command. Letting you loose from the dock early could be an accident adrift. Communicate loudly. Please and thank you are unnecessary - save it for the dinner table.

Ready to leave the dock, before you release the lines test the forward and reverse of the motors as well as the thruster (if applicable). Instruct your crew where to leave the lines for easy retrieval on your return. Blast the horn once - standard leaving a dock. Release the lines one at a time, and disembark.

Ready to return after a nice boat trip? Remember folks will be tired. Use only a long boat hook to retrieve the lines- don't hang over the side. Most permanent dock lines use the open-eye side to secure the boat. The major message here is to have your crew simply place the line "eye" over the cleat. See photo. Then shout the line is ON. The simple objective is to stop the boat. Fancy through cleat looping may qualify you for the 10% off manicure club by quickly severing a finger. After two or three lines are "loosely" attached, the vessel is secure. If your dock lines are bitter ends, one turn around the cleat and cross twice over the top is sufficient. Again keep fingers away from the line to cleat surfaces. Take all the time you need to re-tie securely after the engines are off.

The Kind of Day You Want to Toast!

by Bill Reynolds,
Card Sound Sailing Club
Commodore

Perfect sailing conditions with a medium breeze 8-10 kts, steady direction, sunny sky and a full fleet of 14 Bullseyes on the starting line made for a fabulous day of close sailing and exciting starts. We can only hope we can repeat the day.

Peter and Mary McChesney had a perfect day, notching 1st place for the day with 3 straight number 1 finishes. Gary Sayia and Nancy Lampman took second honors with finishes of 8, 2 and 2. Chris Streit finished third for the day with a 2nd, 6th and another 6th. Most improved went to the team of Meg Selig and son and skipper Fritz Selig who happens to be the grandson of George and Patty Lucas. Very good sailing DNA.

For a sailor, sailing on this kind of a day puts you in touch with nature in a very special way. We could have sailed all day however; it was Hot Dog Day at Baker Harbor and we had cold drinks and fun socializing waiting for us. It's another kind of race to see who gets baker 1st, sailors or Race Committee. It was a tie. We might have set a new record for hot dogs consumed. Watch out

Joey Chestnut.

A big thanks goes out weekly to our race committee members; Jay Beatty, Natasha and Lorne Price, Shirley Shumway, Jane Schaefer and attendant boats Morgan Whiteley and Matt Pilon.

Our next schedule race day is January 21st for the second weekend of The Connors Series. If you are interested in finding out more about Card Sound Sailing Club stop by Baker Harbor around noon Saturday when we return to the harbor and gather for an hour or so of good social time. You may also contact member chair

Gary Sayia at 201-919-7432 or Commodore Bill Reynolds at 614-296-7592.

On Friday, January 27th, we will begin our beer can practice racing where we run starts and a short course to practice a windward rounding and a spinnaker set and run to the finish line. This likely will be out in front of Goldberg Park where we are more visible.

Hoping your New Year is off to a great start!

Series Racing Begins on the Pond

by Windsor D. Coffin,
CSMYC
Commodore

It was a wild morning on the Pond last Sunday for the sailors of the Card Sound Model Yacht Club (CSMYC) to begin Series Racing. While the wind direction didn't vary too much and the weather was beautiful, the fact that it was easterly brought the mangroves on the ocean's edge into play. For many sailors in our fleet to begin the season, those mangroves wreaked havoc.

What those mangroves created were dead spots and swirling winds, but nothing like the ones we can see when the wind is out of a northerly direction. Features, such as the mangroves, are what give the Pond its incredibly unique characteristics and make it a thoroughly enjoyable place to sail on Sunday mornings. The conditions were such that we were able to sail our usual five races on the day. At that threshold, the sailors have their worst finishing score of the day dropped and we only count their best four finishes. Winning the day was yours truly, Windsor Coffin, with a sweep of all five races. This was a first for me at the CSMYC, so needless to say I was a bit excited given the caliber of sailors racing on the day. Second place was Jim Seale who displayed excellent boat speed and tactics as he navigated some of the challenges posed by the blocking mangroves. Rounding out the top three was Al Mast who eventually got a handle of the idiosyncrasies of the racecourse. Though he finished the day in third, underestimate Al at your own peril. His boat is one you always have to keep an eye on as a multiple-time CSMYC past champion. Special mention goes to Erin Coffin and Lynne Mast who oversaw the scoring and start procedures. Erin usually races as well, but did not this day (my fault, I did not finish the rebuild on her boat). But, most assuredly, she will be back racing again this Sunday.

While we may have had issues with the east side mangroves last Sunday, it will pale in comparison to the forecasted northwest wind this Sunday. The forecast is calling for breezy and cool conditions and the wind direction will bring oscillations as the wind travels around the homes of Villa Cay and the buildings of the Inn. It is sure to be another exciting day on the Pond!

The Card Sound Model Yacht Club races every Sunday (except Easter Sunday) until the end of April at "the Pond." So, swing by the Buccaneer Island Lagoon if you are curious or have questions. Racing begins at 10 a.m. Our sailors are always willing to discuss our racing model yachts and, for interested sailors, there are even a few currently available for sale here at Ocean Reef. If you would like more information about our model yachting club and our EC12 model yachts, please contact me, Windsor Coffin, at csmyc12@gmail.com.

Reminder from the ACBL: Be Scent-sitive!

Some people have an extreme sensitivity to fragrances (colognes or perfumes). Many ACBL clubs, units and districts have adopted policies that prohibit players from wearing fragrances. The ACBL has not issued an official policy on the matter, preferring instead to appeal to the goodwill of its members to refrain from using fragrances.

Because duplicate bridge requires players to be in close proximity to each other, individuals who suffer from fragrance-related reactions cannot avoid those who are wearing them. Among the commonly reported symptoms are intense headaches (indeed, fragrances can frequently be a trigger for migraine sufferers) or breathing-related problems. For these individuals, the issue is much more serious than simply disliking a particular smell — it's a real health problem. Please, if you're going to play in a club, don't wear cologne, perfume or scented lotions.

BRIDGE TIP OF THE WEEK

The Mechanics Of Bridge

We are often asked, "Why is contract bridge so avidly enjoyed by so many people?" This question is usually raised by someone who has never learned the game, but whose interest has been piqued by friends who have been bitten by the "bridge bug."

It is not surprising that the game is highly appealing, because it combines so many fascinating features. Some of these are:

SKILL

A player who has learned well will win more often than one whose technique is inadequate, for bridge is first and foremost a game of skill. It is sufficiently demanding to provide a challenge to all; it requires such abilities as reasoning, memory, and planning. Yet anyone who is willing to invest some time and effort can learn to play, and you need not be an expert to find enjoyment.

THE PERSONAL ELEMENT

It is possible to program an electronic computer to play a pretty fair game of chess, but the computer would probably have a nervous breakdown if it tried to learn bridge because it could never master the "personal element." Taking into consideration the behavior patterns of your opponents is yet another intriguing aspect of bridge. For example, some opponents consistently overvalue their cards, and you can let them climb out on a limb and cut it off behind them; others tend to undervalue their cards and should be left strictly alone.

Also, the care and feeding of partners is particularly important. In bridge, you have a partner to assist you in the battle against your two opponents, and partner's habits must also be kept in mind. Thus, a close decision would be resolved differently opposite an aggressive partner (who often announces unpossessed strength) than with a conservative partner (who always turned up with something in reserve). A highly unusual action that might be justified with a clever partner could be extremely foolhardy with one less imaginative. Bridge involves "playing the people" as well as playing the cards.

UNIQUENESS

In bridge, exact situations are virtually never duplicated. The reason for this is that there are no fewer than 53,

644,737,765,488,792,839,237,440,000 possible situations (deals), so you are most unlikely ever to see the same one recur twice in your lifetime, even if you play every day. Thus, every situation will offer something unique. (Certain general principles, however, are useful in many different situations, and their mastery is rewarding to serious students of the game.)

For reasons such as these, bridge is enjoyed by millions of participants and is commonly regarded as one of the two best card games in existence. Unlike its competitor for the popularity title, poker, bridge need not be played for stakes to be interesting, an advantage that is particularly appealing in an era of rising prices and taxes.
