

Possibilities Imagined Can Now Be Realized (Thank You, Ocean Reef!)

By Sarah A. Cart

Richard Weinstein, president and COO of the Ocean Reef Community Foundation (ORCF), recently shared that as a result of this season's All Charities Weekend, "the generosity of the Members helped to enable distributions to the not-for-profit recipient partners at Ocean Reef [Medical Center, Cultural Center, Academy, Art League, ORCAT and Conservation Association] and to organizations off The Reef in excess of any past annual distributions."

That means that, thanks to additional direct donations to ORCF's Community Grants Fund, for the second year in a row, ORCF will once again be able to distribute record-breaking funds in excess of $2,000,000 via grants to organizations in the surrounding communities beyond Ocean Reef. In fact, Yuri Mikolay, ORCF's executive director, confirmed that the Foundation will be able to make its largest Community Grants distribution to more organizations in Florida City, Homestead, and in the Upper Keys than ever. In addition, the monies will further enhance the Foundation's Impact Fund, instrumental in assisting such projects as Baptist Health's helipad, programs at the

From Slaughterhouse to Sanctuary: Blossom's Renewal at Ocean Reef Club

By Scott & Sharon Greenstein
Member since 2018

During the past summer, our lives changed profoundly when we rescued Blossom, a Tibetan Terrier, from a slaughterhouse in China. Through the efforts of the "No Dogs Left Behind" rescue organization, renowned for its tireless work in rescuing dogs from the illegal dog-meat trade in Asia, we were able to bring Blossom into our family.

My husband and I have

always had a soft spot for animals, often visiting shelters to spend time walking dogs in need of exercise. Little did we know that during our visit to Montauk, we would encounter Blossom and immediately feel a deep connection with her. Learning about Blossom's harrowing journey of survival only strengthened our resolve to provide her with a fresh start.

Originally from a suburb in Zhongnanhai, China,

Blossom was kidnapped, then abandoned by her kidnappers. Found wandering the streets, she was sent to a local slaughterhouse for "processing." Fortunately, Blossom was one of the lucky ones, as she was smuggled out by "No Dogs Left Behind" and placed in a safe shelter.

However, Blossom's journey to safety was fraught with challenges. In 2021, floods in China washed away the shelter where she was staying. Miraculously, she survived and was transferred to another shelter. It still took two years and considerable fundraising for her to find a place, with 50 other dogs, on a pallet that was flown 29 hours from Beijing to New York, where we would meet her. Not all the dogs survived the journey. This was followed by another eight-hour trip to a rescue farm in Canton, New York.

Upon agreeing to foster and eventually adopt Blossom, we welcomed her into our home with open arms, despite evidence of significant trauma. Our vet revealed that Blossom required extensive medical attention, including vaccinations, dental surgery, and grooming. She had already lost 10 teeth and required surgery to remove 14 more.

Despite our best efforts to provide a safe and loving environment, Blossom struggled to adjust. She exhibited signs of fear and mistrust, likely stemming from her traumatic past. Communication proved challenging as she only understood Chinese, adding another layer of complexity to her integration into our daily lives.

Those challenges took a heartbreaking turn when she pulled away from us on her leash, disappearing into the bustling streets of New York City. Desperate to find her, we combed Central Park tirelessly, plastering the area with posters in hopes of her safe return. Luckily, a dog walker spotted Blossom the following morning, prompting us to resume our search. After hours of scouring the park, we were reunited with Blossom, who emerged from the bushes, hesitant and timid.

Here at Ocean Reef, with the dedicated attention of Grayvik Animal Care Center staff, along with the solace and companionship she found in the ORCA Dog Park, Blossom has undergone a remarkable transformation. Initially timid and withdrawn, she now engages with other dogs, showcasing a remarkable progress that fills us with joy. Witnessing her bark for the first time, a sound we feared she may never make due to the common practice of cutting vocal cords in slaughterhouses, was an unforgettable moment of triumph.

Grayvik's expertise and the nurturing environment of the Dog Park have truly worked wonders for Blossom, making it her special sanctuary where she thrives. With each passing day, she continues to thrive, surrounded by love and care in her new home at Ocean Reef, a testament to her resilience and newfound sense of security.

Cracking the Coconut Case

by Felicia M. Koretsky

We opened up the Ocean Reef Club Cold Case file to solve the mystery of the Coconut Face Painter(s).

Exactly four years ago, when Covid-19 changed the course of the world as we knew it, an anonymous artist(s) began leaving coconuts painted with colorful faces all around The Reef. These happy nuts popped up in trees, on house patios, public walkways, in planters, and outside retail stores. Despite published pleas for the artist(s) to make themselves known so they could be thanked for these gifts given in an uncertain time, their silence brought intrigue.

Reef sleuths everywhere looked for clues. It became the fodder of gossip, accusation, and innuendo. Surveillance footage taken from Wynn's revealed hoodie-wearing figures dropping off coconuts in the middle of the night to welcome Members and Associates in for their morning shopping. Rumors began circulating that at least two open garage doors revealed stacks of coconuts waiting to be painted in homes on South Harbor Drive. But no one was ever identified.

When the Coconuts began to deteriorate, the sneaky painter(s) would come around and swap them out with fresh faces and themes. Whether it was Halloween, Christmas, or Valentine's Day, you could reliably count on a burst of happiness in the most unusual places-on street signs, on lawns, and on bathroom counters. The coconuts became so popular, that a few people began collecting them in their carts to bring back to their homes rather than leave them out for the community to share. This brought outrage and public calls for decency from some Reefers who loved sighting these colorful creations. Some eagle-eyed Reefers even noticed that there might even be a Copy-Nut artist or two around as some of the faces looked angrier than others. We discovered there are actually several Coconut Rembrandt forgers in our midst.

As the 2023-2024 season winds down, we decided it was time to bring some closure to the curious.

With some genealogy testing, witness interviews, lie detectors, and DNA samples, we cracked the case. Uh, actually, that's complete hyperbole based on our personal obsession with Dateline NBC's Keith Morrison. There was no high tech or cheek swabbing involved in our detective work, just a little persistence and a few phone calls.

We spoke with the original Coconut creator(s) last week and discussed the purpose of this project, how it got started and, what they were up to now. Out of respect for their generosity and their wish to remain anonymous, we will continue to keep their identity(ies) secret (so sorry), but we will shed some light on the project by sharing some of the highlights of our interview.

Q: Why did you come up with this plan and how do you come up with their characters?

A: During Covid, so many people were suffering. We wanted to bring some hope and happiness to people. We just look at each coconut and ask them who they are to come up with our ideas.

Q: How long does it take to create each coconut? Are you still doing them?

A: It takes about 40 minutes each. We made hundreds the first few years, but we haven't done any this past season. We are now leaving painted love rocks. We can make a hundred of them an hour. Our love-theme rocks are based on The Beatles song All You Need is Love and lyrics Love is All You Need.

Not Cracking: Anonymous artists began leaving theme-changing painted coconuts around The Reef during Covid to bring cheer during uncertainty. Four years later, they are still popular.

Q: Are you responsible for all of the painted coconuts?

A: No, but it was so wonderful to see other people joining in to make other people happy during a difficult time.

Q: How did you manage to get some of the nuts high into the trees without being seen?

A: We didn't. We put them out and then other people would move them around.

Q: Are coconuts a fruit or a nut?

A: Fruit.

Q: Don't you want people to know who you are?

A: Remaining anonymous is intentional. Like the adage says, Blessed Are Those Who Plant Trees Under Whose Shade He Will Never Sit.

Q: Do you get upset when you hear stories about people taking the coconuts for themselves?

A: No. We figure they needed it. They needed something to bring them joy. But if someone is taking them just to take it, now that's wrong.

Q: Have you ever been caught?

A: Yes, there are a few people who know who we are. But they've all remained tight-lipped understanding that the point is not who is making them, but bringing people joy.

Possibilities Imagined Can Now Be Realized (Thank You, Ocean Reef!)

College of the Florida Keys and others.

That's a wonderful testament to this season's Imagine the Possibilities theme and to the Members of Ocean Reef.

Praises are due to the whole team: The 2024 All Charities Weekend co-chairs, Susie Misini-Hassett and Cathy Totonis, Silent Auction chairs Lori and Brad Young, their committees, the Preferred Partners, and the All Charities staff. Yet, Weinstein says, not to be forgotten is the passion of the Membership across the board – Equity, Social, and Legacy – contributing not just over that one weekend but through the dues check-off; that support continues to “ensure that this special place and our neighboring communities remain vibrant. Ultimately, when All Charities is successful, it's because of the Members.” And as he's mentioned before, “the generosity coin has two sides: Members bidding, AND donating – everything from wine, golf, chef-prepared dinners at home, trips across the U.S. and the world, and great stuff.”

The most popular items on the auction block? “Your Dog or Cat Crowned Pet of the Year” garnered 163 bids! Golf for a threesome at Winged Foot went for $22,500! And while sailing in the Seychelles aboard Perseus earned the highest bid in the Live Auction, the February 29 Bordeaux on the Bay dinner brought in the most monies for

Ocean Reef Community Foundation	$ 1,736,574
Ocean Reef Medical Center	$ 1,767,290
Ocean Reef Cultural Center Academy at Ocean Reef	$ 950,000
Ocean Reef Art League	$ 798,624
Ocean Reef Conservation Association	$ 399,312
ORCAT	$ 117,149

In addition to these distributions, the Community Foundation will provide the final installment of $300,000 to the Chapel as part of a one-million-dollar three-year commitment to their new Fellowship Center. An additional $700,000 has been reserved from the All Charities proceeds for impact projects in our surrounding communities. Previous Impact Fund projects have included the Baptist Helipad and the Upper Keys Campus for the College of the Florida Keys.

Please see next week's edition of the Ocean Reef Press for the complete list of the ORCF Community Grant recipients.

the Silent Auction.

As in past seasons, many longtime Community Trustees (those who commit their monies and participation long before the weekend) stepped up to higher levels, and in their wake, many new Members added their energy, enthusiasm, and bids to the weekend's success.

Finally, this year's end-of-the-evening “Raise the Paddle,” when everyone gives in recognition of the sheer volume of grants requests, was second only to the monies so raised post-Hurricane Irma. As Weinstein explains, that generosity means that the ORCF Board, with its focus on youth, education, community, and health and family services, can expand its much-needed support of worthy charities to assist thousands, empowering people and helping others to be self-sufficient.

Specifics regarding those distributions will be forthcoming soon.

Thanks are due as well to ACW's 14 Preferred Partners, whose steadfast support, through their cash and auction item donations ensure that the monies raised at the Silent and Live Auctions enable ORCF to give 100 percent of the donations made by Club Members to non-profits. As Weinstein points out, “While our Preferred Partners help us to accomplish so much, we can also help them by returning that support whenever we have a need, whether while we're here on The Reef or elsewhere.” So “Bravo!” to Baer's Furniture; Baptist Health South Florida; Barton & Gray Mariners Club; Haute Explore; John & Mary Lee's Fine Wine Society; Lazzara Yachts; Lester Lampert Jewellers; Lexus of Kendall/Lexus of West Kendall; Marsh McLennan Agency, Private Client Services; NetJets; Northern Trust; Ocean Reef Club Sotheby's International Realty; Seabourn; and Somerset Charters.

As has been highlighted multiple times since All Charities's 2008 beginnings, “This community has a tradition of making miracles happen.”

Thanks to you, Ocean Reef, possibilities that previously had only been imagined will now be made real.

Rains Don't Dampen Support for Garden Group House & Garden Tour

by Annie Miles

Despite the afternoon's heavy rainfall, Ocean Reef members turned out all day for the 2024 Garden Group House & Garden Tour and made it a tremendous success. One hostess reported visitors still arriving in the deluge at 3:45 p.m. Artists prevailed despite windy morning conditions, adding a new dimension to the tour. Treasurer, Joan Flippin, estimates that nearly 700 tickets were sold, with some ticket receipts still outstanding, adding that, "Some individuals also gave contributions to support the tour, including a generous check in honor of Garden Group president, Pam Ferger." The long wait for the popular event after Covid delays proved to be a great motivation for community support.

Tour Chairman, Loretta Mackay, expressed her heartfelt

gratitude for Ocean Reef's generosity which will enable the Garden Group to donate to more worthy organizations than ever before. "I am indebted to the home and garden owners who generously opened their properties to the community, even in the pouring rain. I greatly appreciate the entire Tour Committee who worked tirelessly on the project for over a year. The efforts of the floral designers who created unique arrangements for each home, the artists whose creative works added a special touch to the tour, and the many hosts and hostesses who graciously guided patrons throughout the day were invaluable to the event's success. We also owe a special debt of gratitude to Wynns for donating the 500 cookies served in the garden, to Public Safety for assisting with traffic control, and to Alex Tonarelli and staff for supplying and delivering water, cups, and chairs in addition to supporting our use of the ORC Food Truck."

Hostess chairperson Jody Hilton added her thanks to the women who designed the beautiful floral arrangements in each home including Donna Archibald, Bonnie Covington, Tania McCann, Gretchen Riley and Suzanne Sayia.

Mackay hosted a "thank you" gathering at the home of Garden Group Hospitality Chair Carole Page on Saturday evening following the Friday tour. All homeowners, hosts and hostesses, artists and Garden Group members were invited to share in the evening, celebrating the event.

Larry and Linda Roaseau hosted tour patrons in the first-ever garden experience on Friday's House & Garden Tour.

CAMPUS SPEAKER SERIES

"China Rx" with Rosemary Gibson
Thursday, April 4 at 5 p.m.

If you take a prescription drug, over-the-counter pain reliever, or vitamin, this event is for you.

Rosemary Gibson, Senior Advisor at the Hastings Center and author of China Rx: Exposing the Risks of America's Dependence on China for Medicine, will discuss the dramatic shift in where prescription drugs and over-the-counter products are made. She will show how this shift has given rise to unprecedented shortages of blood pressure medicines, amoxicillin, cancer treatments, and hundreds more.

With most generic drugs made in Asia now, evidence of poorly manufactured medicines will be presented. For example, Cleveland Clinic cardiologists published test results that revealed safety concerns with certain manufacturers' generics for seriously ill cardiac patients. Also, quality and safety data will be presented on generics for underactive thyroid, seizures, and depression.

Where is the FDA? The role

of the agency, and limits to its authority, will be discussed.

Private sector solutions will be highlighted. Leading hospitals and health care systems including Kaiser Permanente and the Department of Defense Military Health System have launched independent testing programs for generic medicines to inform purchasing decisions. Other health systems are doing the same, on a smaller scale. Tips for what doctors, hospitals, patients, and consumers can do will be provided.

We invite you to join us for this complimentary enriching lecture on Thursday, April 4, at 5 p.m. at the Cultural Center.

Kyiv Virtuoso Symphony Orchestra

By Barbara Pearson
Member since 2004

Many thanks to John Hunt, Cynthia and Scott Schumacker and the Cultural Center Board of Directors for treating us to a phenomenal performance by the first and only private symphony from Ukraine.

From Carnegie Hall to the Cultural Center, the Kyiv Virtuosi Symphony Orchestra performed Saturday evening to several spontaneous standing ovations. Gifted and trained musicians from Ukraine, forced out by the war, have made a temporary home in Italy. They are touring the United States on a Peace tour.

Dmitry Yablonsky, Russian born and educated at Julliard and Yale University, conducted and performed a cello solo accompanied by the strings. Masterfully playing a 400-year-old cello, Yablonsky's passion and talent equal to his grand stature and almost giant-like hands mesmerized the audience. The first cellist followed unexpectedly in the role of a cantor, donned a prayer shawl and softly sang a prayer of peace while the musicians played with very solemn faces touching every soul present.

Thereafter, the mood lightened. An American soprano sang three beautiful pieces with a group of flutes, horn and percussion instruments behind the Ukrainian strings. Works by Beethoven and other classical composers rounded off the evening.

As the audience reveled in the grasp of the Kyiv Virtuoso Symphony Orchestra, thoughts of the musicians, their families and their displacement from home in Ukraine was almost overwhelming.

The spirit of peace through music, resilience and love enveloped the Cultural Center Saturday evening. Let it spread throughout the world.

You've worked hard to build your wealth. Who will help your heirs build theirs?

Easter - Of First Importance

by Rev. Dr.
Bob Henley

Before Easter became a religious observance, it was an historical event. Sometimes the religious trappings can obscure the significance of the event. What took place early on that Sunday morning in Jerusalem, over two millennia ago, needs to be given thoughtful consideration today.

Two Indisputable Facts

Reliable historians agree that there are two indisputable facts about that first Easter morning. The first fact is the tomb in which Jesus of Nazareth was buried late on Friday afternoon, was empty early on Sunday morning.

The body of Jesus had been taken down from the cross by two courageous Jewish religious leaders. The first was Joseph of Arimathea, the wealthy individual to whom the tomb belonged. The other was Nicodemus, a respected teacher in Israel. These two hurriedly wrapped Jesus' body in linen strips, complete with face covering, and laid it on the stone shelf on one side of what would have been a large cave-like tomb.

According to the Gospel accounts, at first light on Sunday, a small group of women made their way to the tomb. They were weighed down with burial spices. They hoped to complete the burial practices the press of time prohibited on Friday because of the beginning of the Jewish Sabbath.

On Friday, a stone had been rolled across the entrance to the tomb and securely sealed. The women worried how they could remove it to gain access to Jesus' body. Yet upon arriving, they were shocked to find the stone had been rolled away.

What they discovered leads to the second indisputable fact. The body of Jesus was missing. It was not there.

In the patriarchal culture of the first century, women were not permitted to be witnesses in any official matter. Yet in the Gospel accounts, it is women who first announced the news to Jesus' followers. And they were all perplexed.

The Inescapable Conclusion

The Gospels make it clear that Jesus had previously told his followers what was going to happen to him in Jerusalem. He told them, "... the chief priests and teachers of the law will condemn me to death and will hand me over to the Gentiles (the Romans) to be mocked and flogged and crucified." Yet he also told them he will be raised to life on the third day!

His crucifixion and death left his followers totally disheartened and confused. One small group put it this way. "...we had hoped that he was the one who was going to redeem Israel." Their hopes had been dashed.

Yet there were rumors of something remarkable having taken place. It was said, "And what is more, it is the third day since all this took place. Some of our women amazed us. They went to the tomb early this morning but didn't find his body. They came and told us he was alive. Then some of our companions went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said, but him they did not see."

What is clear is this. His followers could barely fathom Jesus' talk of crucifixion and death. But talk of resurrection was beyond their comprehension. As devout Jewish people, that had a penumbral hint or hope of life beyond death. But the notion that a dead man would come back to life after crucifixion – was unconceivable!

What changed that? It was a matter of a mounting body of evidence that occurred over the following weeks, but started with the empty tomb on that first Easter morning.

Many alternate theories have come forward to explain away the claim of Jesus' bodily resurrection. Some say the body was stolen. Others suggest the women were confused and went to the wrong tomb. Some have claimed his followers were so distraught that they compensated by imagining his resurrection. A few dared to say he didn't really die but was revived by the cool of the tomb. Others say the spirit of his life and teaching lives on while denying any claim for a bodily resurrection.

Yet when each objection is considered in the light of the mounting evidence, eyewitness testimony, and changed lives, there is only one explanation that makes sense of it all. That explanation has been the Easter confession of people of faith ever since. It is this. He is risen! He is risen indeed!

Insurmountable Hope

If true, it is the matter of first importance. God's raising Jesus from the grave and death destroys the power of death, threatens the despotic dominance of tyrants, holds the promise of ultimate justice, offers forgiveness of sins, and breaks the grip of evil's destructive influence. There is no other claim comparable in human history.

NEWS FROM THE MEDICAL CENTER

Medical Lecture Series Presents:

“Optimizing Your Health Without Medications: Gain Control Of Your Microbiome and Epigenetics Through Lifestyle Modifications”

Tuesday, April 2

Please join us on Tuesday, April 2 at 5 p.m. at the Cultural Center with Yuliya Linhares, M.D., for this fascinating lecture on optimizing your health without medications to gain control of your microbiome and epigenetics. Dr. Linhares is a medical oncologist specializing in the comprehensive treatment of lymphoma and serves as Chief of Lymphoma, Blood and Transplant Program at Miami Cancer Institute, Baptist Health South Florida.

The microbiome is the community of microorganisms, such as fungi, bacteria and viruses, usually described to live in the gastrointestinal tract or skin. These groups of microorganisms are dynamic and change in response to a host of environmental factors, such as exercise, diet, medication and other exposures. Epigenetics is the study of how your behaviors and environment can cause changes that affect the way your genes work. Unlike genetic changes, epigenetic changes are reversible and do not change your DNA sequence, but they can change how your body reads a DNA sequence.

Dr. Linhares has unique experience performing chemotherapy and autologous stem cell transplantation using bloodless techniques, which are important treatment options for cancer patients who choose to receive non-blood medical care for religious, personal, medical or ethical reasons.

She is actively involved in several clinical trials to improve the outcomes of patients with lymphoma. Dr. Linhares has extensive teaching experience training medical students, residents and oncology fellows at UCLA School of Medicine. She serves as an editorial reviewer for prestigious peer-reviewed scientific publications, is widely published in numerous medical journals and delivers invited lectures at academic symposiums.

Please join us after the lecture for a cocktail reception and to meet Dr. Linhares. Many thanks to Baptist Health South Florida for sponsoring this informative lecture.

Unexpected Insights at O7FA

By Susan Bohan

Recently, I sat down with Airport Director Erika Torres to talk about the annual Aviation Day coming up. While I learned all about the fun activities and interesting speakers that will grace the Ocean Reef Airport tarmac on April 6 (see below for more details), I gained even more than I expected, realizing just how much there is to learn about the history of our Airport!

Airport History

- In 1956 the original Airport was located on what is now the back 9 of Card Sound Golf Club.
- The 1960s is when the growth of private aviation here at Ocean Reef really began.
- The first terminal in 1968 was a tiki hut and there was a commuter plane to Miami.

- The original airstrip was 2,000-feet long and now is 4,456-feet long and 70-feet wide.

Interesting Facts & Figures:

- Over 102 different types of aircraft are serviced every year, from helicopters to jets, prop planes and more.
- 52% of all aircraft that fly into Ocean Reef are privately owned and operated.

- The AOPA (Aircraft Owners Pilot Association) makes various videos available for pilots on safety, decision making and landing without a control tower.
  - The Ocean Reef Airport has given exclusive access to VIPs including three Presidents, innumerable Cultural Center performers and medical airlifts.
  - Only 20 "noise" events (jets taking off or landing) are allowed on standard days.
  - A helicopter is permitted to operate two trips in one day.
  - All planes must have a landing reservation booking. Equity Members can reserve a year ahead, Social Members 30 days ahead, and Guests seven days.
- "The Airport is not just for those Members who fly frequently," commented Erika. "We encourage children to stop by with aviation questions and listen to the walkie-talkies between pilots and ground crew. One visiting grandchild came so often that he is now 16 and set on being a pilot. Nowhere else that I know of can you sit so close to a runway while enjoying a snack and be part of the world of aviation."

She also recalled a comment by a Member whose feeling mirrors many others, "I always know when I am close to Ocean Reef. I can see the turquoise water and know after landing I can hop onto my golf cart and be home within minutes."

Don't Miss Aviation Day!

Saturday, April 6

Erika and her Team encourage all members of the community, whether they're Airport users or not, to check out Aviation Day and see everything the Airport has to offer. Here are just a few of the fun things they have planned:

- "Top Gun" Bootcamp
  - Three guest speakers detailing the history of aviation, AOPA safety protocols; and a war hero pilot
    - Flight simulator
    - Scenic flights
    - Replica of P-51 Mustang
    - Short takeoff and landing demonstration
    - Children Activities: Pedal plane relay, cornhole and shuffleboard, build a propeller, and more.
    - Food Truck
- For questions or reservations for any of these activities, call 305-367-6516.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6

Don't miss the fun at O7FA!

There's plenty to enjoy for every age (even if you're not an Airport user!), including interesting speakers, scenic flights around Ocean Reef, children's activities, and more! Even test your flying skills in a flight simulator.

Bermants' Marine Love Affair Includes Humpbacks, Hosting Alaskan Research

By Annie Miles

One of the many things I love about Ocean Reef is the amazing people you meet here. The talents and interests of our community are diverse and fascinating and this applies unreservedly to Don and Denise Bermant. They share a love of marine life that brought them together as a couple over 40 years ago and has continued to be a passion for them both.

The Early Years

The Bermants bought their first boat in 2010, the first of their three Fleming yachts, and cruised continuously. They traveled from Maine to southern Cuba, spent nine years exploring the remote out-islands of the Bahamas and four years doing the same in British Columbia and southeast Alaska. They found Ocean Reef in 2014 and made it their home port. Married 34 years, they met on a scuba diving trip when Denise was a PADI (Professional Association of Diving Instructors). Denise has always had an amateur interest in marine biology but here at Ocean Reef most know her as a gifted artist and beautiful vocalist who performs with the Oceanaires. Don is a plant biologist who loves golf, pickleball, underwater photography and drone videography. Their years on their boat were spent diving and exploring while Don perfected his underwater photography skills. It was this vast experience in life at sea that made them ideal candidates to become involved with the International SeaKeepers Society, which promotes oceanographic research, conservation, and education through direct involvement of Don captures the beauty and grace of a baby humpback and its mother using a Canon 5D Mark IV camera in a Nauticam housing.

The lead whale draws members of the pod upward to feast on fish trapped in the bubble net. This amazing scene was captured by Don from the deck of their boat.

volunteer "citizen scientists." In 2017, SeaKeepers gave the Bermants a two-month underwater photography assignment that helped them secure permission from the US government to take their boat and explore the coast of Cuba. After this, they volunteered for the Discovery Yacht Program, where private boats are matched with research projects.

Alaskan Adventures

Three years ago, Don and Denise moved their Fleming 65' Blue Pearl to the northwest Pacific where they were paired with the mission of recording whale communications in the Chatham Strait area of southeast Alaska. This summer will be their third season hosting a team of scientists. The scientists live aboard for 14 days or more with the Bermants providing the transportation and hospitality. But their involvement with the research goes far beyond being gracious hosts. Denise explains, "Our most vital contribution is providing the boat without which they could not do the research. Don aids the research through his photography and piloting a drone for aerial photos. Each day we search out a group of humpback whales and spend the day recording their vocalizations and surface behaviors." Denise and Don are the sole captain/crew and both work together in piloting the boat, finding a protected place to anchor, preparing meals, maintaining the boat, and studying the weather and tides to plot the next day's navigation. Meanwhile, the scientists do their logs and download the day's data. "Having a physicist, mathematician, whale behaviorist, acoustic engineer and musicologist on board leads to some fascinating after-dinner conversations," Denise added. The scientists use a hydrophone (and a mass of complicated equipment) for their humpback whale acoustic research. The ultimate purpose of the research is to decode their language, which may provide data for mathematical models to aid in interpreting other non-human communication.

Another aspect of the research aboard the Blue Pearl is to observe and record whale behaviors. They are especially looking for groups of whales in a cooperative hunting strategy that occurs within a group where the whales dive deep below schools of fish and use bubbles blown from their blowholes to corral fish into a compact school. Denise elaborated, "One whale is the leader and blows the bubbles while the others swim in a circle surrounding the fish. The whales swim in a tightening spiral pattern to keep the fish trapped. On a vocal signal, the entire group lunges to the surface to scoop up the fish in their huge mouths." From Don's photographs, it looks like a sort of whale ballet, but with a very practical purpose. Don captured a "first" on drone video: after a day of cooperative feeding, a group of eight humpback whales breached simultaneously, leaping into the air in what is thought to be an end of the day ceremony before going their separate ways for the night.

So, what motivates these two talented Ocean Reefers to keep seeking new adventures in their golden years? The Bermants agree it is a combination of "the awe-inspiring beauty, the challenges, the new and deepening friendships, and the delight of discovery about planet earth." Or as Dory, who tried some communication with whales in Finding Nemo, would put it, "Just keep swimming, just keep swimming!"

Rules Reminder: Dogs & Pets

It's no secret that Ocean Reefers love their pets as evidenced by January's Blessing of the Animals, now in its eleventh year and requiring two "seatings" to accommodate everyone. Dogs and other pets are invited to several events every year, from Yappy Hours to the Chamber of Commerce's Welcome Back Paw-ty and more.

Outside of any specific pet-friendly event, Club facilities do have rules about pets:

Dogs and other pets, with exceptions for service animals as required by law, are not permitted on the Club's facilities without the approval of the Club, this includes Buccaneer Island and the golf courses.

Boat owners are permitted to have pets provided they are kept on the vessel or on a leash in specially designated areas. Members are responsible for any damage caused by a pet owned by the member or under the member's control, and also for cleaning up pet droppings.

ORCA's Dog Park welcomes dogs to two outdoor fenced parks, one for large and one for small, open daily from 8 a.m. to sunset. And when in need of care, a check-up or grooming, there is a full-service veterinary clinic, Grayvik Animal Center, also home to ORCAT, located at 97 South Harbor Drive.

Farmer's Market Favorites

by Susan Bohan

In my family, Easter Sunday always meant a lamb roast after Sunday Services, with gravy and all the fixings. Times and tastes have changed but I was curious what fellow Members would have on their tables if not at one of our fabulous restaurants. So I went to the expert, Jorge Lorenzo the owner of Lomelo's and found besides his most popular filets, racks of lamb were a big hit this year. Whether roasted or grilled he sells out of both almost every week. And to finish off the meal he brings large or individual (feeds 3) cheesecakes and chocolate cheesecakes so no one can walk away from the table not completely full.

It Takes a Village To Protect Our Reefs

By Lisa Cassidy, The Dive Shop Co-owner

The beauty of nature is lost on no one. To protect the beauty in our backyard coral system, it takes science, knowledge and collaboration. In the words of the great Jacques Cousteau, "We only protect what we love, we only love what we understand, and we only understand what we are taught."

The Dive Shop will be working with Ken Nedimyer - founder of Coral Restoration Foundation and more recently Reef Renewal USA (RRUSA) and his team to develop and implement a comprehensive reef restoration program at Carysfort Reef, beginning at South Carysfort this year and eventually expanding to North Carysfort in years to come. Last year the water temperatures throughout the Keys reached new and unprecedented record highs, killing or bleaching untold numbers of corals, and fundamentally altering the ecology of the Florida Keys. As a result of these losses, and in preparation for more record-breaking summer heat, a new restoration strategy was developed to address the

In a five-phase plan, we will shift our focus away from the Staghorn and Elkhorn corals and focus more on brain and star corals, which are showing impressive tolerance to heat. We will not completely ignore Staghorn and Elkhorn coral, but will spend more time working with partners around the state to breed and develop new genetic strains of heat resistant corals.

The Dive Shop has offered both passive and active trips to the initial RRUSA Pop Up nursery. In a recent Dive Shop customer survey, the number one program request was Coral Restoration and Nursery Care. We are listening to our customers and expanding programs to train, provide access, clean, fragment, outplant and maintain the Reef Renewal corals exclusively for the participation of ORC members and their guests.

On April 8th, The Dive Shop (ORC) and Watson Luxury Properties at Ocean Reef will host an exciting presentation with Ken and world-renowned Emmy-winning underwater videographer Frazier Nivens (Ocean Imaging Productions) at the Cultural Center theatre at 4:30 p.m. Ken will be the Keynote Speaker and will lead the audience in an educational journey of coral reef restoration and the development of his 5-phase plan of coral restoration here at Carysfort and beyond entitled

"Coral Restoration Challenges: What is Next?". Frazier will be showing his "An Ocean of Secrets" video filled with some of his best lifetime work, as well as two recent underwater shoots of South Carysfort and some historical footage of the reef in "Diving Carysfort". Special thanks to Ocean Reef Member, Shelly Cameron Poulton for helping to make this video possible.

Do not miss this event which includes a wine and pizza meet and greet afterwards in the Cultural Center lobby. Beyond the education of these two experts, you will find out how to get hands-on involved to help save and restore our beautiful reef system at Carysfort. If you are just simply interested in learning and seeing beauty, please join us.

Easter Bunny – Origin

“Nature Notes” by Nancy Zakon

Holiday symbols, like that of the Easter Bunny, are ingenious amalgams of ancient beliefs. Let’s begin with the word “Easter” – the Saxon pagan goddess of spring and dawn was named Eostre or Eastre. Her name may have referred to East, dawn. (She dates back to - well, way back). So, we have a derivation of the word “Easter”. What about “Bunny”? In ancient times it was believed widely the hare (rabbit) could reproduce without loss of virginity. This belief later led to the hare’s association with the Virgin Mary as seen in medieval paintings. To early German Protestants, Barbara Noyes with the Easter Bunny the Easter Hare played the role of judge, much like Santa Claus, rewarding good little children with eggs and candy or gifts at Easter. OK, what about the colored eggs? Eggs have been a symbol of rebirth and fertility since recorded history. In some countries like Ukraine, egg decorating has become an art form. In medieval Europe, eggs were forbidden to be eaten during Lent (the 40 days prior to Easter). Understandably at Easter, eggs would be decorated and given as gifts. And who better to bring the eggs, than the Easter Hare? But, isn’t it a rabbit? Not quite. Larger than a rabbit, a hare builds her nest above ground in a small depression (as opposed to a rabbit’s below-ground burrow). Hence, a straw nest with Easter eggs! We won’t quibble... “Easter Bunny” works for me.

Enjoy our Ocean Reef Easter on Sunday!

CLUB SHOPPING

Joan the Shopper

What NOT to wear at Ocean Reef

Alert: Dress Code

Advisory.... I am sure that most Ocean Reef Members are well acquainted with the OR Dress Code and wouldn't dream of wearing the skimpy and revealing and completely unacceptable outfits pictured here... But what about your holiday visitors, who might be unaware or confused about what is a “no-no” at ORC.... Suppose at Buccaneer Island or in line for the Raw Bar, your OR guests are stopped by an ORC Associate, who indicates that what they are wearing (or not wearing – shirtless is sometimes the rule-breaker of young men) violates the Ocean Reef Dress Code .... To assure that our guests are not embarrassed, and our Dress Code is respected, we Members must make it our business to discourage our visitors from wearing anything considered inappropriate at Ocean Reef. Nobody loves rules. But it is essential to our Ocean Reef Club that we respect them.... What to Wear at Ocean Reef: Saturday and Sunday, March 30 and 31, are great days for Easter shopping. The stores that are owned and operated by the Club (Burgee, Gift, Spa, Fitness, Golf, Tennis) are filled with inviting maxi and mini flowery cotton dresses, ORC sweaters and sweatshirts, collared tees, outfits for the sports-minded. Something for “everybody” (all acceptable under the OR Dress Code) .... To make your Easter shopping more fun the above-mentioned stores are offering you Price-Less Eggs. Pick an egg from the basket and inside there will be a coupon giving you a 10% to 50% discount on the items you have purchased. HAPPY EASTER

The Shedd Aquarium Team Visits The Academy at Ocean Reef

by Jerome Murphy, Head of School

Following a recent conversation with ORC Member Joan Conley, The Academy was delighted to welcome the Shedd Aquarium team from Chicago, IL. Equipped with a mission to spark compassion, curiosity, and conservation for the aquatic animal world, our Shedd Aquarium educational representatives visited with our Academy K-3 students to engage them in an exciting and tactile-friendly lesson and activity related to coral reefs.

Not to be outdone, our Academy 4-8th graders reveled in the opportunity to visit and get a tour of the Shedd Aquarium's research vessel, Coral Reef II. Coral Reef II serves as a mobile basecamp and laboratory that allows scientists to conduct applied research on animals such as conch, lobster, coral, and sharks. This work helps inform the conservation and management of these imperiled species. Academy students met the crew---a knowledgeable and passionate group--and learned about the marine research conducted from the boat, the equipment and techniques used, and what it is like to live aboard a research vessel for weeks at a time!

Following a reflection exercise with our students, here are some of their takeaways:

Constantin Wiegand (G6): We learned a lot about coral restoration and climate change. They are trying to find more heat-resistant corals. We also learned about fish and sharks when we were at the Coral Reef II. We got to see the engine room, which was really hot, and the wheelhouse was amazing.

Kai Howell (G6): I enjoyed going into the crew mess where there was air conditioning, a couch, snacks, a TV and everything was overall very cozy.

Edward Brown (G7): We toured the Coral Reef II, which is a research vessel. It is used to find and plant the coral that can sustain higher temperatures than others. The research vessel crew also finds where endangered or protected species travel throughout the year.

Natalie Blackburn (G7): We were greeted by Chuck Knapp. The classes broke into groups of three. Me, Valerie, Edward and Constantine met Ross Cunning, who taught us about coral bleaching and the disastrous effect hot water temperatures last summer had on the coral. After Mark Schick gave us a boat tour, we had a great time and learned so much!

Valerie Gabriel (G8): The Shedd Aquarium field trip was so fun and interesting. I learned a lot about marine biology and what life is like on a research boat. We received a tour of the research boat and had the opportunity to see all the different gadgets used on this huge vessel. We learned about coral bleaching, which is a major crisis all over the world. We got to see the engine room and experience the heat that crewmen had to deal with while working in the engine room.

Kids, Easter & Beyond!

"Art League" by Deborah Goodwin Geller

As soon as I saw this picture of the kids from the Kids Happy Hour I not only smiled but showed the photo to my Canasta partners knowing it would make them smile too! Look at those sweet faces. The theme was obviously to paint a 'bunny rabbit' for Easter. They look so proud of themselves. You can see the various ages who shared this experience together, so if you ever wonder if this would suit your child or grandchild give it a try. Next Kids Happy Hour and the last one will be

Carter, Hadleigh, May, Shae, James, Lucy and Hallie at the Art League's Kids Happy Hour.

Friday, April 5 from 4 to 6 p.m.

Speaking of kids, the Art League will be running 2 Summer Camps for kids for the second time, one in July and one in August. It's a great break from all the sun and physical activities. Contact the Art League for more information.

Also this past week we held our 4th Book Club meeting. The book chosen was "Demon Copperhead" and was facilitated by Linda Salisbury who did a great job. Remember the last Book Club Meeting of the season will be Wednesday, April 17 at 4 p.m. and is open to everyone. I will be facilitating the book "Who Is Maud Dixon". We had read the book a couple of years ago but couldn't get together to discuss due to Covid so we are completing some unfinished business. I'll be looking ahead to next season so if you have ideas please feel free to pass them on to me!

Our Easter Show and Celebration is the last show of the Season and will be held March 29 to April 20 but come out to the Reception Friday, March 29. There will be works submitted by our members in a variety of mediums along with appetizers and wine! Come out and enjoy this final event and cheer on your family and friends who have participated.

Last but not least, our final off-Reef excursion is Mrs. Doubtfire The Musical - Live! Saturday, April 13. The Motor Coach will leave the Art League at 12:15 p.m. and the matinee will be followed by a dinner at one of Ft. Lauderdale's great restaurants. Get your ticket soon.

Chuck and Sheila Wagner celebrated Sheila's mother's 100th birthday at the Daniel Island Club in Charleston, SC on March 9th. Dottie Wyche was surrounded by children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Cocktails and toasts were enjoyed by all, as well as a great meal and birthday cake.

Sheila proudly says, "My mother still exercises every day, gets her hair done every Tuesday and keeps the fellow residents and staff at her assisted living facility regaled with stories and jokes. Her motto is 'get up, dress up and show up.' She is a good southern girl and so here is to her... 'Bless her heart.'"

Dottie loves Ocean Reef and was here for her granddaughter's wedding at The Point in 2011.

INSIDE THIS ISSUE

Associate Spotlight: Stef Shaw

By Annie Miles

Perhaps "passionate" is an exaggeration when referring to some golfers' affection for the game, but it's completely appropriate to describe how Director of Instruction Stef Shaw feels about teaching others to play. "Since the day I was given my first opportunity to teach at Hilton Head," Shaw asserts, "I feel like I have never worked a day in my life!" Here at Ocean Reef, nothing has changed. Shaw radiates that conviction about teaching with a warm smile, a clear approach, and a serious commitment to helping players improve their game.

Her impressive resume includes playing Division II golf at Florida Southern College, five years working under Tiger Woods' former coach Hank Haney at Hilton Head, and six winters at the Boca Resort and Club working with Top 100 Instructor Kellie Stenzel, whom Shaw credits with hugely impacting her teaching style. Named as one of Golf Digest's "Best Young Teachers in America" and "Best Teachers in the State of Florida," Shaw was a perfect choice to lead the ORC team. "Stef has been a gem for Ocean Reef Club," boasts Director of Golf Mike Leone. "Not only does she have all the knowledge and accolades of a wonderful Director of Instruction, but she relays that information to the membership in a simple way they can apply and remember. The combination of her skill, delivery and personality makes her invaluable to Ocean Reef Stef makes an adjustment to Kit Albaugh's swing in a lesson at the Academy of Golf.

During the summer months, Shaw gives instruction in Southampton, New York, at Sebonack Golf Club.

Golf."

One of Shaw's goals was to bring the best possible teaching team to The Reef. With resident pros Dave Vihlen and Brad Pinho, guest instructor Kelan McDonagh and putting guru Bruce Rearick, she feels she and her team have accomplished that. Their focus is to bring the most helpful and interesting technology to the Academy of Golf and create the best possible space for learning.

Shaw's dad got her started in the game, although both her parents were avid tennis players who named her Judy Harms, Debbie Eagan, Ann Mencoff and Harley Tice connect at a recent golf clinic and work on specific golf skills with Stef.

"Stef" after tennis great Steffi Graf. Her parents remain her biggest inspiration. Her dad plays in the Senior British Open Qualifiers and her mom recently took up the game. Stef said seeing the joy the sport already brings to her mom motivates her to set new goals for herself. She enjoys running clinics as a "great option for members who are looking for a way to meet others and have fun in a group environment." Shaw also loves hosting golf schools to introduce the membership to great instructors who provide new ways to learn and view the game.

Member Paul Archibald said his recent top finish in his Triple Classic flight was aided by Shaw's instruction. He credits her with his improved swing. "Stef keeps it simple and helped me make small, effective changes to both my grip and swing motion."

Stef likes to keep life interesting by staying open to completely new experiences. A few years ago, she channeled that energy into the decision to run marathons! In 2022 she ran the New York City Marathon (yes, she finished!)

and plans to run it again this November. "The challenge of long-distance running seemed to fit my need to grow as an athlete and a person. To be a part of the New York City event is unlike anything that I have ever experienced."

Lynne Thomson, Shaw's Mentor (in the Golf Mentoring Program), praises her as a person and a professional. "Stef is such an accomplished teacher that she doesn't actually need a mentor! It's a pleasure to have her as a member of our family here and enjoy the holidays together. I treasure time with her, but it is limited by her well-deserved popularity as an instructor! As her mentor, I'm so proud of her dedication and leadership at Ocean Reef."

One of Stef's first bosses in the golf industry joked that he was keeping track of how many days she would come to work with a smile on her face. The smiles went on for seven years without missing a day, and Shaw plans to keep that record intact at ORC. Smiling, she confesses, "The best decision I ever made was to come to Ocean Reef."

Boating Safety

by Peter Liashek, USCG Aux Flotilla Staff Public Education Officer

We are almost nearing the end of the season here at ORC and it's a great time to review some boating safety tips, which you can continue to use on your boats this summer!

1) Always check the weather before going out. Here in South Florida, it's not unusual to get a late afternoon "spritz" shower, but we can also get a weather front change during the day that causes high gusty winds and rain. Likewise when you're out on the water and clouds start to develop, that's probably a good time to raise the anchor and head home. With the large number of live weather and radar apps available, knowing what to expect ahead of time is an easy task.

2) The USCG Auxiliary always recommends making a float plan, which is a written plan of where you intend to take your boat that day. If this is not possible, at least let someone know where you'll be that day, bayside or out at Carysfort, so if you do not return, we have an idea of where to start to look.

3) Do some "nice day drills" as I call them. For example, when you're anchored on a sunny, flat calm day, get in the water and see if your friend/husband/wife can pull you into the boat to simulate a man overboard. Are you coming in on the swim platform, gunwale, do you have a life sling to assist? Also can you give your location? Take time to look at the GPS or radio to figure out your lat/long.

4) Check your life jackets and see if you have the right size and number for all onboard. Federal and state law mandates one jacket for every person onboard, and they must be the appropriate size. An adult jacket is not suitable or legal for a child.

5) Take a boating course. Our flotilla offers Emergency Boating Courses as well as FL State boating courses. Check the Ocean Reef Press for dates, etc.

6) Have one of our flotilla members perform a vessel safety check on your boat. This is a checklist of equipment that is recommended for your boat and can keep you current with flares, fire extinguishers, life jackets, etc. It's not a punitive exam; we are here to help you and promote boating safety!

7) Finally, an EPIRB for your boat and/or a personal EPIRB for your personal life jacket are especially important if you venture offshore or to the Bahamas. This device uses a satellite transmission and lets the Coast Guard know where you are in the event of an emergency. The capability of these devices has dramatically been upgraded the past few years, and the cost has become very reasonable.

MGA Anchor Cup

The 2024 MGA Anchor Cup is now in the books! Going into round two, Team Bayside had a slight, 7-point lead over Team Oceanside as players took Dolphin Course for singles matches. With 84 points at stake, Team Oceanside was down, but not out! After half of our matches were in, Team Oceanside was chipping away at the lead, sweeping a handful of matches. But as our contestants eagerly stood by, Team Bayside returned to their form in round 1, snatching points left and right. It became evident that after 2 years of being on the wrong side of this competition, they were hungry for a win.

Fortunately, for Team Bayside, the drought was finally over. Outscoring Team Oceanside, 47.5 to 36.5 in singles match, gave Team Bayside sufficient enough points to claim the 2024 MGA Anchor Cup!

Congratulations to Team

9-Hole LGA NET Skins Competition

We had 52, 9 Hole LGA members compete in the NET Skins competition on Thursday. All participants played the front nine of the Dolphin Course. The weather was very friendly leading to lots of NET birdies and eagles on the scorecards. To win a skin on a hole, an individual player must have the lowest score on that hole compared to the entire field of players participating. Often it takes making a long putt or holing one out from the fairway to take home bragging rights in a skins game. There were only 2 skins made during Thursday's round. Congratulations to Deb McKenney for winning a skin with a NET eagle on #3, and Pam Cook for winning a skin with a NET eagle on #8!

How to Fix Your Short Game

"Swing Tip"
by Zach Haynes, Golf Professional

Ahhhh the dreaded chip shot.... How many times have we hit this shot thin over the green or chunky and the ball has gone nowhere? This week, we are going to help you get rid of the dreaded part of chipping and begin to love hitting these shots around the green!

Weight Distribution

On all chips and pitches, we should have our weight on our front foot. What this allows is for us to be swinging the club down and through the golf ball and not swinging up into the ball. Contact in the short game is the most important piece of the puzzle and when you create great contact, you can control your shots more easily.

How does the chipping motion look?

When you set up a chip shot, you are looking to have your arms and club form a "Y" to the golf ball. With your weight on your forward foot and the ball in the middle of your stance, your goal is to move the shoulders or chest to make the ball fly in its desired direction. When we make this motion, our chest should continue to rotate toward the target on the way through the golf ball.

Drills

When you set up you should have your right foot slightly behind you and your right heel up off the ground. This will promote your weight moving toward your front foot as you continue to strike down on the golf ball and generate great contact.

Sign up for a short game lesson today by calling the Golf Shop at 305-367-5912.

We Made the Right Call Saturday!

by Currie Wooten, CSSC Commodore

We saw the writing on the wall. Winds were showing up and rain was in the forecast early the previous week, but we always hold on to the hope that the forecast moves forward or backward of our time slot on Saturday mornings, but not this time, our race was canceled by last Thursday night!

The forecast didn't give us a clue of what we were in store for until midweek, and then all of Ocean Reef started planning for their Friday and Saturday at the Fitness Center, except for the Garden Group Tour, which went on until the very end with booties, umbrellas, raincoats and soaked groups who had used their carts! Didi Streit and Ruth Perfido had organized the team for the beautiful home and ended up with a couple of abandoned umbrellas and shoes if you are still looking for them.

Luckily, the Card Sound Sailing group had planned another event to keep themselves busy midweek - a Nautical Trivia Night at the Burgee Bar.

Bonnie Schoedinger had been diligently studying for her nautical trivia questions since early in the season. She narrowed them down to 31 challenging, multiple-choice questions and the winning group only got 20 correct. The Crushers ended up winning with the team of Beattys, Fosters, and Maidas. The Bullships with Pilons, Sayias, and Gormleys came in a close 2nd, and the Exumas with Chanins and Robillards came in a close 3rd. Getting Tanked with Cooks and Streits and No Ship Sherlock with Coffins and Reynolds were tied for 4th.

First Place Team, the Crushers, made up of the Beattys, Fosters and Maidas.

No Ship Sherlock won the best team name.

As the sailing group was leaving, we paused at our Card Sound Sailing Club corner at the Burgee Bar, where our race results and trophy plaques are updated each year. Already, Chris Streit found his name for his 2024 win on the Pumpkin Key trophy board. Gary Sayia and Nancy Lampman found their updated wins for the Connor Series and Magic Series. Last, but not least is the new addition of the wonderful picture of our Bullseye masts all lined up in Bakers Harbor by Linda Carithers, which Bruce and Genevieve Jeffreys introduced to us in our opening lunch. Many thanks go to Michael Acton, the Burgee Bar manager, who helped with the reorganizing of the CSSC corner and with our Trivia event. He was so accommodating and easy to contact and our waiters, Daniel and Adel, were so attentive and dealt with all the back and forth between the tables to handle the question sheets. We really want to thank all the Burgee Bar group that helped make our event such a memorable one, that it will now be an annual event.

We have 2 more Saturday race days in our season. Tomorrow is Mills-Metcalf Race Series #3 and weather looks good. Saturday April 6th will be our last race and Hot Dog/Slider Day.

Members, please remember to register and pay for our Award Night Dinner at Anglers at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, April 9th.

Our schedule and events and race results are on our website, cardsoundsailingclub.com.

We welcome sailors and friends to join us at any part of the season. Please contact Gary Sayia at 210-919-7432 if interested or stop by and join us most Saturdays at Baker Harbor.

A Beautiful Day for Racing on the Pond

by Windsor D. Coffin, CSMYC Commodore

After 48 hours of rainfall which far exceeded the average amount for the entire month of March, it was fantastic to wake up last Sunday to clear skies, cooler temperatures, and most importantly for us sailors, a bit of wind.

I know that I have mentioned almost weekly about the unique wind conditions we sail in racing on the Buccaneer Island Lagoon (the "Pond"), but what I saw as I was setting the race buoys was one of the more extraordinary things I have seen in my years sailing on this body of water. With the northwest wind we knew it would be gusty and variable, I mean it is that way most of the time. But for a few minutes you could see the effect on the water of the Marlin Building being directly upwind. There were two distinct wind lines 20 feet apart, but 90 degrees different in direction. It was fascinating to watch, I only wish I had my phone to take a photo!

On to the racing. It was another great attendance of CSMYC sailors and spectators, and I know we were all thrilled to get outside after the inclement weather of the previous two days. Jim Seale, who had endured a difficult March, where model yachting is concerned, was finally able to get some races in. But after six races run, in conditions that once again went from breezy, to calm, to variable, it was the usual trio at the top of the score sheet. Winning the day with four race wins was yours truly, Windsor Coffin. In second place for the day with a win in Race #2, was Joe Robillard. Rounding out the top three in third place for the day and a win in Race #5 was Al Mast. As always, we thank our outstanding Race Committee of Lynne Mast and Alzbetka Robillard without whom we would not be able to get as many races run each Sunday.

With Easter this coming Sunday, the Card Sound Model Yacht Club takes a break from racing so that our sailors can spend time with family and so kids of all ages can enjoy the Easter activities on Buccaneer Island. However, our season is far from over, as we race until the end of April. If you have not already, we hope that you will come out to watch our racing in our final month of the season. Racing begins again at 10 a.m. on Sunday, April 7. If you would like more information about our model yachting club and our EC12 model yachts, please come by "the Pond" to see us or contact me, Windsor Coffin, at csmyc12@gmail.com.

On behalf of the sailors of the CSMYC, we wish you a Happy Easter!

Women, Wickets & Wine End of Season Party & The Ruffing Award

By William Hinkebein, ORC Croquet Chair

It's hard to believe how swiftly March has drawn to a close. The Ocean Reef season has flown by. This year has been exceptional for Ocean Reef Golf Croquet.

Women, Wickets & Wine (WWW)

It gives me great pleasure to address the end of the season Women Wickets and Wine Golf Croquet Monday night events.

The final official WWW is Monday, April 1 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The WWW this season has been quite popular and well attended. While ORC provides the vino, it's the outstanding croquet gals of Ocean Reef that provide the fun, camaraderie and competitive play.

I would like to congratulate each and every one of you on your incredible achievements throughout the season. The level of skill and sportsmanship that has been on display has truly been a joy to witness.

I want to extend my thanks to the Tennis & Games staff and to ORC Golf Croquet Committee Secretary Carol Blackburn for their efforts in ensuring the smooth running of this event. Without their dedication and commitment, none of this would have been possible.

To all the players, I want to express my admiration for your continued play and determination. This is a testament to your character and passion for the game.

I also want to acknowledge the spirit of fellowship that has been on display throughout the season. The friendships that have been forged and the bonds that have been strengthened are a testament to the power of sport to bring people together.

Season Ending Pizza Party & The Ruffing Award

Sunday, April 7 is the official season ending Open Play and Pizza Party, beginning at 3 p.m.

We can play croquet and ORC will provide pizza and soft drinks for all. BYOB if you want to bring your own beverage.

Also, this will be a special day as The Ruffing Award will be handed out to a most distinguished most deserving individual. You will not want to miss the presentation of The Ruffing Award.

The Ruffing Award – What Is It?

This is an honorable award bestowed upon a person who has given so much to the ORC croquet community.

To receive a Ruffing Award is a very special achievement. The award recognizes outstanding contributions that have enhanced the overall experience of our croquet life at ORC.

The Ruffing Award is so named in honor of our great croquet friends and leaders Joan and Art Ruffing.

Joan and Art Ruffing are longtime ORC and KLAC members who helped build the croquet community. Through their long tenure at both clubs they volunteered countless hours in creating, organizing and leading the croquet activities.

Joan and Art have taught hundreds of people the croquet game at ORC, KLAC and their northern clubs. They are pillars of the croquet community upon whose shoulders we stand.

In honoring an individual with this special award, we also honor the Ruffings themselves.

Sunday April 7 Schedule:

- 3 p.m. Open Play begins
- 4 p.m. Pizza delivery

Pickleball

Players of the Week

Mike Jones and Cathy Ryon

This week's Pickleball players of the week are a wonderful team that partnered up this past week at the APP Miami Open; Mike Jones and Cathy Ryon.

After a good performance in the round robin play they were set to face a team in the semi-finals that beat them convincingly during the round robin play. Mike and Cathy came out firing and ran away with the match, putting them in the Gold medal match. Unfortunately, they were not able to walk away with gold, losing in a close match but left with Silver Medals. Both players love Pickleball at ORC for the social aspect, having fun with friends while not taking it too seriously. Mike and Cathy share the same motivation for 2024; trying to keep up with everyone else as they continue to improve. Cathy's goals for the year are to get a deeper serve and more consistent serve, Mike's goals include staying healthy, keeping up with friends, meeting new people, and laughing a lot!

How to Improve Your Serving Percentage:

"Tennis Tip"
by Hannah
Fleckenstein,
Head Tennis
Professional

When people come to me for a serving lesson, I often work on how the player should swing their rackets, how they should grip their rackets, and how they should hit the ball. Once people are comfortable with these processes, I incorporate finer details that take them from "I hope I just get the ball in the box" to "I am going to hit this serve deep in the corner of the box over the returner head." This week I thought I would share three of these details so that we can all go out and practice our serve with some new focus points.

1. Footing: When you are serving, think and feel what your feet are doing. Do they stay on the ground while you toss the ball? Do you pick them up and move them? Ideally, as you serve your weight should shift from your front foot to your back foot and back to your front foot again. As you start your serve, your weight is on the front foot. As your hands go up to toss the ball, your weight shifts from the front foot to the back foot, and as your hands get set to hit the ball your weight shifts back into your front foot so that you can load and jump up to hit the ball.

2. Balance: What happens when your hands go above your head to hit? If you find yourself falling over, practice serving without the ball and see if you can hold your finishing position for two seconds. If you can do this, add the ball and see at one point you lose your balance in your serve. Nine times out of ten, your toss will throw you off balance as you try and chase it down. The toss is the crux of the serve. If it is not the right one, do not hit it. In general, your toss should lead you forward into the court. If you have trouble with an inconsistent ball toss, look to keep the toss in front of you so that you can always see the ball.

3. Repetition: The best way to get better at the serve is to go out and practice! The next time you have nothing to do come on over to the Tennis & Games Center and hit a bucket of serves. Give thought to every serve you hit, but do not stress about the mechanics of the motion. Rather, think about where you want to put the serve. Go out and serve 10 first serves, then 10 second serves, then 10 first serve/second serve combinations. Getting better at the serve takes time and practice. Have fun with it!

For more tips and tricks, come find me at the Tennis & Games Center!

BRIDGE TIP OF THE WEEK

Ambiguous Splinters

By Gregg Van Dyke, Director of Card & Games

In the intricate game of bridge, strategic bidding can often reveal hidden depths in your partnership's hand. One such tactic, known as "ambiguous splinters," adds a layer of complexity to the bidding process.

Imagine you're the responder after your partner's 1♥ opening bid. Holding a strong hand with support for hearts, you opt for a game-forcing raise by bidding 3♥. Your partner's unexpected rebid of 3♠ indicates an unbalanced hand with a singleton or void in spades, signaling game interest and potentially hinting at slam.

Now it's your turn to respond.

If your partner has a minimum hand and no slam aspirations, they'll likely settle in 4♥. However, if the prospect of slam intrigues them, they might employ a clever tactic: the bid of 3NT as a relay.

This bid serves as an artificial inquiry, prompting you to reveal your short suit. It's a strategic move aimed at keeping opponents guessing and limiting their insight into your partnership's hand.

The relay works as follows:

- A bid of 4♣ indicates a club singleton or void.
- 4♦ reveals a diamond singleton or void.
- And 4♥ signifies a heart singleton or void.

By mastering the art of ambiguous splinters, you can enhance your partnership's bidding repertoire and elevate your game to new levels of sophistication.
